GRIST

DEDICATED TO YOU

To you for whom the very name of Rhode Island State College daily assumes new significance, to you who carry on the traditions of the college, to you who will give life to the college this 1941 Grist is dedicated. For you Rhode Island State College was founded; to you, also, was she dedicated, and with you only will she flourish.

We of the class of '41, who for four years have watched our college progress and change, have given of ourselves and received full return. The heritage of advancement is given to you who follow. It is for you to give time and effort and care that the spirit of Rhode Island State College may never lag nor be broken.

The idea of the importance of you who make up the college has been well expressed. Parents asking to see the college one summer day were told, "The college is not here, it is home on vacation."

CLASS ADVISOR—FRIEND

Dr. Edward M. Pease

To you the readers of the 1941 Grist

Introducing

In the following pages you will find the activities of the student body at Rhode Island State College.
We sincerely hope that they will serve as a happy reminder of college life and all it represents.

The pictures below depict the varied life at State. We see, a general gathering of students, a professor with his experiment, a view of our famous Marine Laboratory, a typical house dance, and last but not least Old Ben Butler who has greeted every student since 1895 . . .

THE 1941 GRIST . . . . .

Many hours of dreaming, planning, and working have gone into compiling this, the 1941 edition of the Grist which we now present for your approval. We have endeavored to preserve for you an accurate record of the many experiences of the college year 1940-41, which you have enjoyed because you shared an intimate part in them. You are the principal characters of this narrative. Your activities, from the opening week of school to the time when you receive your coveted degree, furnish the plot of this story; your accomplishments, the climax. May you look back in future years, when memory fails to recall these happy times with sufficient clarity, and read again with some enjoyment the story of another year at Rhode Island State—not just another year, but the year 1940-1941.

The merits of the book may be attributed to the cooperation of many people who took an interest in it. To Jack Marshall of Howard-Wesson Company for his personal interest and creative work and Milton Fitch of the same firm for excellence of engraving and layout. The honors for photography go to Mr. Van Dale of Pawtucket and George Gee of the campus. Mr. Droitecour of Providence gave us excellent suggestions for printing and displayed great patience in working with an inexperienced staff.

It is the sincere wish of the editor; the business manager, and each member of the staff that the 1941 Grist will be a source of information and real pleasure to you all.

This, rather than being an historical classification, might well be called the saga of the Class of 1941. It is the story of three hundred and fifty young men and women who four years ago entered the portals of Rhode Island State College as Freshmen, devoid of fame and reknown, and bearing only the adopted standard of "the finest class under the sun." The tides of college education and activities have borne this group through four unforgettable years of college life to the fast-approaching goal — graduation. Here for the first time is an opportunity for a perspective on a nearly closed chapter for two-thirds of that original group — an opportunity for reminiscence . .

In some instances it was chance that brought us to Kingston Hill on September of 1937. College was a mystery to practically all of us — some had planned, some had hoped, some had unexpectedly come upon the opportunity of a collegiate education — certainly none were experienced. The first week of bewildered pushing and rushing, endless lines, appointments, and examinations was a dashing introduction to a new life. Our first realization that we existed as a class came with the magic words of our class song . . .

Forty-one! Forty-one!

She's the finest class under the sun!

She excels in brawn and brain,

She is sure success to gain.

Forty-one! Forty-one!

Whether college days have just begun

Or college life is over and done

We'll loyal be to State, to our college dear and great,

And to Forty-one.

Forty-one has our loyalty,

Forty-one has our service free.

*Forty-one cheers unceasingly for Rhode

State will teach us the way to live,

State for us is superlative.

Every class will its homage give to Rhode Island State.

Forty-one! Forty-one . . .

Unity was one hundred percent before Freshman Week was over, thanks to the common ground of Frosh caps and Bibles and the advent of upper-class "oppression".

While each year seemingly has passed more quickly, none held more surprises and pleasures than our first. We learned that college rules were made especially for Freshmen — and at least half of our class, pledging into twelve fraternities in October, learned quickly the early bonds of fraternal life, the "life" of a pledgee. We took rather kindly to "army life" on Monday afternoons, although for many the novelty wore off. On Saturday afternoons we turned out to see an eel-hipped classmate named Abbruzzi slither through all kinds of opposition with the help of his teammates — Keaney, Gates, Flynn, and the rest of an undefeated Frosh eleven. That was in early fall when we were still as new and shiny as the Administration Building and the new "Brick Dorm".

Our first chance to sample social life, aside from the class functions of Freshman Week, came with the Aggie Bowl, and '41 was able to proclaim its first "Queen"—Bethany Duches-

Many joined the college musical groups where we heard frequently of "Windy" Hey and Hilda Pritsker, members of the Glee Club. Frosh athletes already familiar to us from football season donned Frosh-green basketball togs to offer daily competition to an already famous Varsity. It was then that we first experienced the thrill of a season of Rhody basketball, a feeling that has grown with us each year. The speed and dazzle of Keaney-coached basketball and the performance of so great a five as Jaworski, Tashjian, Partington, Fabricant, and Caprielian were welcome sights one or two nights each week during the winter months. Some of us got into the habit of dropping in at afternoon workouts to get our share of the "Keaneyana" that went with the matinees. We pinned class hopes of a high scorer upon Bud Conley and were not disappointed. At the same time we were conscious of women's basketball and a Varsity team abetted regularly by two Freshman stars, Hazel Joyce and Jane

The first dance ever held in the new library at Green Hall was the Faculty Ball in February. We braved a blizzard to hear Tommy Reynolds and to meet the faculty "at play." That was, of course, after our first semester's experience with quality points. Incidentally there were rumors rampant then that an amazing record of scholarship was being compiled by the Class of 1941.

Freshman "hazing" was about over, so the Sachems decided to let us elect our own class

All in all it was a great year for Freshman athletics. Two other undefeated teams joined our undefeated footballers. In cross-country, Les Nichols, Bob Dixon, Eggie Gamache, interested a large first-year group in which Carroll Billmyer, Harold Lash, and Nathan Shippee were outstanding. The activities of radiominded students had new impetus from the interests of Ben Greene and John Stasukevich, both licensed operators, who took over the handling of WIKMV, Rhody's shortwave transmitter.

Baseball season rolled in and out, with Elmer Cornell, Bud Conley, the "Duke", and Keaney showing their wares to good advantage. Then it was Prom time, all too soon, with

On the preceding night, erstwhile reporters of the class published the Frosh Beacon to proclaim the accomplishments of the Class of 1941. Summer No. 1 gave us a chance for reflection of the hurried first year while working for next September's term bill. Those eleven weeks seemed shorter than ever before; little did we realize how much shorter succeeding summers would be.

Finally . . . September and another registration, this time with a lordly look at the insignificant "youngsters" running around in caps and green ribbons. Hi! Frosh !!

Then September blew its welcome one afternoon, September 21. We stood bareheaded on the open quadrangle, backs to a hurricane, watching a scene of falling trees and branches and spinning slates. Even supper at Lippitt was ominous—the electricity was gone and candles were at a premium. We trudged out through a scene of desolation, and picked our way through the jungle of fallen trees, electric poles, and wires along the main road. The night was eerie black. The commuters trapped by blocked roads repaired to college dormitories for shelter. There was open house at the girls' dorm where many students gathered to enjoy the unique occasion, waiting until the storm had spent itself. Others, concerned by reports of disaster along the shore, made up rescue crews that plunged into the work of saving lives and property at Narragansett Pier, and in the fishing villages nearby. Morning broke clear and bright, and at a special nine o'clock convocation Dr. Bressler dismissed classes until facilities of electricity and water could be restored. Many of our classmates

Our first Honors Day brought the announcement of the names of fifty of our classmates who had made an average of 2.0 scholastically during the Freshman year. Nearly 15% of the class, led by Leon E. Goff (this was the first of three consecutive years for our "E.E wizard"), had so qualified!

November elections in 1938 held a special interest for those of us in Kingston. Our proposed building expansion program, approximately $800,000 for a new recreation center and a chemistry-physics building went up for referendum — and lost. The thousands of letters and pleas of students and administration alike had greatly influenced the State, but not enough for a favorable vote. Elections of our own class officers came early in November, too, with a complete shake-up of the slate of Freshman year. Those elected were Anaclethe

November politics were further flavored by the start of the Kingston Mayoralty campaign. Sophomore candidates dominated the rallies, and "Honest Jim" Murphy won the ballot on a platform of compulsory co-eding as a four-year major course (no cuts), free transportation "down the line," and legalized cribbing. lature for a proposed $350,000 drill-shed and gymnasium at the college has touched off a spark in Kingston. We have long been conscious of the need of a physical plant to accommodate rapidly growing enrollment. To awaken statewide interest in the proposal, hundreds of letters have gone out from students and parents to legislators. (At the time of this writing the passage of either of the bills does not seem likely.)

for a new set-up of a representative student government. A committee, which had for two months investigated the student government possibilities, presented its recommendations at a general assembly of the student body on April 16, and complete organization of the government adopted is planned before the end of the semester.

The engineers voted Peggy Armbrust the honor of being the first "Queen Engineerette" chosen at the Annual Slide Rule Strut. Honors

And so college life for those of us in the Class of 1941 approaches an end. Before long Senior examinations will be here, and then a week of freedom . . . and then commencement. What the future holds for any of us is uncertain. What the past four years have held for many of us we have tried to recount in the preceding pages. The promises of an inspiring class song . . . the traditions of a college we have grown to love . . . these things have made us "the finest class under the sun" . . .

So. Ch., ARNOLD ANDERSON

We, of the Freshman Class coming to college in the year 1938, shall never forget that eventful first month. The day when shingles blew off roofs, trees fell over, and lights went out, announcing the arrival of the hurricane. It was a memorable introduction to four years of advanced studies and activities.

The social highlight of our first year was the Freshman Banquet and Dance. The Chairman of the Social Committee, Andy Anderson, did a great deal to help make it a success. The other officers of the class for the year 1938-1939 were: Bill Martin, President; Anne Peterson, (now Mrs. Babbitt), Vice-President; Betty Benheimer, Secretary; and Bill Rutledge, Treasurer. It was our privilege to enter college in time to see the Basketball record broken with Chet Jaworski's 475 points. In co-ed Basketball another record was broken. Betty Benheimer hit a new high with a Freshman Girl's scoring record of 98 points.

As college was new and exciting, the first year soon passed, and we were all proud to consider ourselves Sophomores. Soph Hop was a colorful affair, with couples dancing happily in the midst of a snow scene. Ruth Oldrid was voted Soph Hop Queen, and a most attractive Queen she was. The class officers for this year included the same people as during Freshman year, with the girls holding the same positions. The fellows changed around, however, giving us: Andy Anderson, President, Bill Martin, Treasurer; and Bill Rutledge, Chairman of the Social Committee.

Along with all the pleasant and happy things, we also had a taste of tragedy. We mourned the departing of one of our favorite classmates, Frannie Drummond, who loved our College and sincerely enjoyed her work here.

This year we have reached the stage of dignified or disgusted Juniors—as the case may be. The Military Ball honored our class by tapping thirty-two Junior officers for membership in Scabbard and Blade, and by electing a Junior Girl, Ruth Oldrid as Co-ed Colonel for the ensuing year. While this is being written, plans are in progress for our Junior Prom, which we anticipate with great expectations.

An aeroplane crack-up sobered our spirits and made us realize how swift and unexpected an innocent student may be taken away from our college—classmate, Gilbert Kornstein.

It suddenly dawns upon us that we have only one more year before closing the door on four years of education and training. Memories of classes and laboratories, dances and basketball games will remain as we adjust ourselves once again to a new life in a different world.

CLASS of 1943

McCabe, Carpenter, French, Thompson, Cashman

OFFICERS

President,	HOWARD P. FRENCH
Vice Pres.,	NANCY CARPENTER
Treasurer,	ROBERT V. MCCABE
Secretary,	EUNICE E. THOMPSON
So. Ch.,	THOMAS CASHMAN

The Class of 1943 has reached the half-way mark of its undergraduate days and is now entering upon the latter part of its college career. The second year is always a pleasant one, for the average sophomore can enjoy his college days with a minimum of responsibilities. For some, however, it is the beginning of "big things." The "little frog in a big puddle" is gradually becoming familiar with his environment and learning to control it.

There are "two little frogs grown up" who have won the respect of their classmates, as shown by the results of the 1940 class elections. Howard French, a pleasant young lad who tosses a mean basketball and football as well, is a capable President. The Vice-presidency is filled by the star athlete of the Sophomore Class, Nancy Carpenter. Likeable Bob McCabe was elected Treasurer, and Betty Thompson, reliable W.S.G.A. Secretary, is also Secretary of the Sophomore Class. And what would a class be without a Social Chairman? It is to Tommy Cashman's credit that the Soph Hop was such a brilliant social success. The theme of the dance was in keeping with the Yuletide season, and the climax was reached when lovely Jean Yare was crowned Queen. Delta Zeta can boast of still another such personality—Barbara Whaley, who was chosen to reign as Queen of the Aggie Bowl. She succeeded Muriel Dickinson who was Queen in 1939-40. Speaking of elections, Asher Gray was Mayor of Kingston last year, and now Peg Gallogly is keeping the honor in the Class of '43.

The Sophomore Class has contributed much in a material way to State College, as is shown by representation and participation in a multitude of campus activities. Of the 58 active members in Phi Delta, 31 are members of the Class of '43. The Portia Club and The Wranglers have been outlets for talent along debating lines, and the Radio Network's business is principally in the hands of the sophomores. Intellectual pursuits have not found the second year class wanting. Lura May Odland and William Bloom head the list for scholastic honors.

Whenever the word "sports" is mentioned, the discussion usually turns to some outstanding sophomore. Take Bob Nichols for instance. Bob's a sensational track star who has a habit of breaking cross country records and incidentally is a peach of a kid. The sophomore members of the basketball team are outstanding, and the baseball and football teams are not exempt from sophomore influence. Participation in co-ed athletics has been fostered by the Class of '43, which can boast of healthy activity in hockey, tennis, and basketball.

When the members of the present Sophomore Class were only yearlings, they knew a good thing when they saw it—for they chose Dr. Lee C. Wilson as their advisor. Undoubtedly he will agree that in addition to the material accomplishments of the Class of '43, something far more important has been manifest. The Sophomore Class has the Rhody spirit.

HISTORY

To start our college career, in September we had a special week set aside for us. During this period we wore green tags to distinguish us from the upper classmen (as if they couldn't tell us anyway). An informal dance at Lippitt Hall which gave us further chance to make new friends and acquaintances was another feature of this week.

At the end of this time the upperclassmen returned, and then we saw how insignificant we were. In order that we might realize our inferior position, the boys had to wear Freshmen caps while the girls wore green ribbons. Further recollections synonymous with our first year were the Girls' Freshman Stunt Night, paddling sessions, and Freshman walks.

As Freshmen we are rather set aside from the other classes. We have our own plays, and our own football and basketball teams. This year we yielded to superior teams in football, but held our own in basketball. To other activities, such as the Beacon, orchestra and debating, we joined wholeheartedly. At the end of the first quarter, those students ranking in the upper ten per cent of the class were entertained at a special Phi Kappa Phi party. Then, to make us feel more like a class, the Freshman election of class officers was held in February.

Although we are one of the smallest classes in recent years, we believe that we can in the future bring credit and glory to Rhode Island State. For this purpose we are eagerly looking forward to three more years on this campus.

THE COACHING STAFF

We, the students of State, have long since been fully appreciative of the extraordinary abilities of Coaches Frank W. Keaney and Fred D. Tootell. In the past, many of us deplored the fact that their efforts must go unheeded outside the confines of our own local, New England area; and we rejoiced in their long-delayed recognition.

Standing: Richmond, Thorp, Lighbody, Ballirano.

Red Erwin

First, it was the triumph of the Tootellmen in the IC4A meet in New York followed by their good showing at East Lansing, Michigan a week later which focused the eyes of the nation on a small farm college in a small New England state. A brilliant basketball campaign, highlighted by two treks to Madison Square Garden and an appearance in Convention Hall, Philadelphia, definitely placed Rhode Island in that select circle of leading collegiate clubs.

Realizing that any good coaching staff's efficiency is dependent upon the complete coordination of the entire staff, the work of Coach Paul Cieurzo, Coach William Beck, Coach Lester Erwin, and Coach Kenneth Knickerbocker is deserving of special mention. Coach Cieurzo, in his assistant capacity, is line coach of football, assistant coach of basketball, and head coach of golf. Football and baseball are Coach Beck's specialties. "Red" Erwin is Toot's aide in cross country and track, while Coach Knickerbocker has tennis under his supervision.

SUMMARY OF THE 1940 FOOTBALL CAMPAIGN

Playing like champs on occasion, the Ram footballers emerged from a successful campaign with a creditable record of five victories and three defeats. Another year saw Rhody yield to her sectional rivals, Brown and Providence College. Forced to bow to Brown 20-17, the Keaneymen might conceivably have scored a dazzling upset over the highly-touted Brunonians, had not an untimely leg injury retired Duke Abbruzzi early in the second quarter, after he had treated the patrons to a star-studded, All-American performance, probably the greatest of his collegiate career.

State submitted to its worst shellacking of the season when Providence College administered a 25-0 setback to the rural Rhodians. Maine subdued Rhode Island up at Orono 7-0.

The Rams recorded triumphs over Northeastern, Massachusetts State, Lowell Textile, Worcester Tech, and the University of Connecticut. The Connecticut contest at Storrs provided the most interesting game of the season. For trailing 12-0 at half-time, Little Rhody roared back to cop a well-earned, hard-fought 13-12 verdict.

SUMMARY OF THE FRESHMAN FOOTBALL CAMPAIGN

Although the Ramlet footballers started and ended the season in a blaze of glory, their record in-between these extremes was not quite so brilliant, for the three set-backs which they suffered at the hands of Brown, Boston University, and Providence College added a somewhat discouraging, inauspicious tint to the season's picture. Wins were registered by the Tootellmen over Northeastern and the University of Connecticut first-year men.

Lacking any co-ordinated offense, the Ramlets managed to score a meager aggregate of 19 points over their five game schedule. Undoubtedly State's outstanding performer, Don Dwyer, Cranston's All-State contribution to Rhode Island, ran, passed, and kicked consistently well in all contests, but especially in the Brown and Providence College tilts.

Boston University and Brown rode roughshod over the Rhodylets but Providence College emerged victorious only after a stubbornly-resistant State eleven lapsed momentarily, allowing Roshka to score while a Nieratko to Drew pass added the extra point. A blocked punt by Sarkis paved the way for the opening triumph over Northeastern. The U-Connlets were victims of the Ramlets in the season's finale. After the Storrs men had counted on a 30-yard Harris to Scussel pass, State retaliated with a similar aerial, Marino to Merolla, while Panciera booted the game-winning point.

THE END OF THE TRAIL

The history of our generation's football teams is the saga of one, Louis "Duke" Abbruzzi. Time will, as it always does, reduce memories of Rhody's gridiron games to a confused blur, but the vagaries of the "old man with the scythe" will not be sufficient, we feel, to efface the glory of the Duke's brilliant individual performances.

It has been a unique privilege to watch the Duke. Even when not starring, his presence has added a colorful lustre to every game. Oftentimes speculation has been rife concerning his probable athletic success at other, larger universities. Yet, were it not for the same dancing, dashing Duke, Rhode Island football teams of recent years would have floundered through dull, listless campaigns.

Abbruzzi has established a new scoring mark of 174 points for posterity to shoot at, and a decade or more may elapse before another so talented a balltoter happens along to eclipse that mark. And even before then, the memory of Duke's achievements will fade, to be cherished by his classmates alone. Fame's fickleness may claim a new hero tomorrow, but we, as typical alumni, shall return to remind a disinterested, disrespectful posterity that, "Back in 1940 we had a fella named Louis 'Duke' Abbruzzi . . . one of the classiest gridders ever to wear the blue of Rhode Island."

RESUME OF THE CROSS-COUNTRY SEASON

Coach Fred D. Tootell, our capable coach, has seldom if ever experienced any really bad campaigns in all his fifteen falls of cross-country competition, and one of the highlights of his very remarkable record was a five-year win streak, over which period his Rhode Island harriers were not defeated in dual-meet competition. And yet, the very ultimate, the apex of his athletic achievement was attained by him this past autumn when his charges trampled over all New England opposition, swept the New York IC4A, and then climaxed their colorful campaign with a creditable third place in the NCAA where they vied with the nation's finest harriers.

Statistics alone will illustrate the complete domination of the Ram runners. In five dual meets Bob Nichols and Charlie Tingley finished one-two while Les Nichols also figured in a three-way tie for first place in the New Hampshire contest, and a second-place tie with Tingley in the Fordham meet. Rhody's Redoubtable Robert, in four of these five meets, established new track records, besides clipping 29 seconds off the New England course record. Some idea of the team strength can be obtained when it is considered that out of a possible 75 points (perfect score) the Ram racers registered 92 points.

Along with the Nicholoses and Tingley, John Moran, Ken Taylor, John Creech, Art O'Sullivan, Robert Hall, and George Gamache were consistently point-getters, and the great success of the team was mainly attributable to their great improvement over the previous season.

RESUME OF THE FRESHMAN CROSS-COUNTRY SEASON

Possibly because they were overshadowed to a great extent by their varsity brothers, the Ramlet harriers enjoyed a fairly respectable but by no means outstanding, season. Their mediocre record of two wins and two losses was enhanced by a surprising and somewhat unexpected triumph in the New Englands where they grouped within the first twenty places to score a nicely-spaced, well-earned win.

Lack of experience and a scarcity of material were the earliest problems which confronted Coach Tootell, and as a result the first year men dropped their initial meet to Westerly High by a single point. In the next encounter they managed to eke out a close win over Northeastern, and followed up with a decisive victory over New Hampshire. In the final dual meet of the campaign, the Ramlet runners were forced to bow to the Connecticut freshmen.

Fenley and Taylor were consistently State's best runners throughout the autumnal season. Fenley led the Rhode Island pack in the New England meet placing 4th while Taylor garnered a 6th place. Barrett, MacKenzie, Mearns, and Jackson scored in almost every meet.

R. I. DEFEATS FORDHAM IN OPENING MEET

In convincing fashion, the Ram hill-and-dalers inaugurated their season auspiciously with an easy 19-36 triumph over Fordham. Bob Nichols, running in varsity competition for the first time, set a new record for the four mile Kingston course, eclipsing the previous mark established by Ted Clarke in 1939. Les Nichols and Charlie Tingley were tied for second some 200 yards behind Bob.

NEW HAMPSHIRE VICTIM OF RAMPAGIN' RAMS

Playing host to the Wildcats one week later, the Tootellmen spared them no mercy in compiling a near-perfect total. The Nicholoses included Tingley in their "brother act", and all three finished together well ahead of the rest of the field. Kirk was the only enemy runner to slip into the first five places. The score was 17-50.

HUSKIES BOW — NICHOLS NOTCHES RECORD

Repeating their decisive win of the week previous, the Ram harriers added the Huskies to their list of victims, allowing only Parker to finish among the first five. Again it was Bob Nichols first across the tape for Rhody, and he bested the Franklin Park course record by 13.3 seconds. Tingley, Les Nichols, Moran, and Taylor were other Ram finishers in that order.

RAMS SETTLE OLD SCORE

As if remembering an old debt yet unpaid, the Tootellmen travelled to Storrs where they administered to the Nutmeggers their first setback in 11 dual meets. A few years back the U-Conn. runners broke Rhody's five-year dual-meet win-streak. Bob Nichols' time of 19 minutes and 56 seconds set a new low for the course.

TOOTELLMEN TRIP PINE-STATERS

Paced by Bob Nichols who knocked 9 seconds off the mark newly set by him two weeks before, the rollicking Ram runners completed their dual meet schedule in characteristic style when they took the measure of the Mainemen at Franklin Park. ## NEW ENGLAND TITLE RETURNS TO RHODE ISLAND

Bunching all five men within the first fifteen places, Rhode Island harriers captured the New Englands at Boston on last Armistice Day. Never in the history of the NEICAAA was a more decisive victory recorded, and the Rhody team total of 30 points represented the lowest aggregate ever to be compiled in this meet. Three of the five Tootellmen finished among the first five while O'Sullivan was 9th and Creech 13th to complete the scoring.

Once again, Bob Nichols led the way, and breasted the tape a full 29 seconds better than the mark established by Don Smith of Maine the year before. Tingley also succeeded in cracking the old record.

RHODE ISLAND HARRIERS WIN FIRST IC4A MEET

On Monday, November 18, the Rhode Island harriers attained the highest pinnacle of athletic achievement when they captured the ICAAAA title on the Van Cortlandt Park course in New York. Notwithstanding the fact that the Rams in registering their first national win had created a new record (their team total of 72 points was the lowest ever compiled), this Rhode Island triumph, closely following on the heels of the New England's victory of the previous week, was even more significant.

True enough, perhaps this win did inaugurate the era which was to make the American sports' public Rhode Island conscious. Moreover, it was a fitting climax, a wonderful reward, for a team of boys who were finishing a spotless season. But yet, by far the most significant side of the triumph was woven about the one man whose efforts finally bore sweet fruition, Coach Fred D. Tootell. For him this must have been the culmination of a long-awaited dream, or perhaps the Fates had decided that they could not justifiably defer his proper reward any longer, and the student demonstration at the Kingston Station was as much a tribute to "Toot" as an appreciation of the team's accomplishment.

Once again Bob Nichols showed his teammates the way, and they "just followed Bob around" with the result that the team turned in a record total of 72 points, or exactly 10 less than Michigan State in second place. Manhattan clinched third place with 103 points. Bob Nichols ran second to Les MacMitchell, Charlie Tingley finished closely behind in fifth position. Les Nichols was the next Rhodian to cross the line in 18th place, followed by Ken Taylor in 21st and John Moran in 26th place.

SUMMARY OF THE INDOOR RELAY SEASON

Despite the fact that the varsity relay team did not fare as well as past years, they nevertheless turned in a creditable showing in all the meets wherein they participated. Due to a scarcity of material, Coach Tootell decided to abandon developing a two-mile relay, and concentrated on aligning his four relayers to produce the best possible results. Dixon, Black, Gosling, Fournier, and Bagshaw were the State standard-bearers, the first three usually participating in every meet while the two sophomores shared the fourth position about evenly.

In the first meet of the season, the Veterans of Foreign Wars held at Boston, Boston College and St. Johns provided the opposition for Rhode Island. Boston College outbattled the fighting Rhodians in this one to win. Dick Fort cleared the bar at 6 ft. to gain a tie for second place in the high jump. The "B" team, composed of Bob and Les Nichols, Dearden, and Bagshaw, finished poorly, and this make-shift quartet competed in only one more meet, the Prout Games, after which they discontinued running for the remainder of the winter games.

Once again, in the Prout Games the following week the Rhodymen fared badly as both Seton Hall and Fordham finished ahead of the Ram entry.

At this point the fortunes of the Tootellmen suffered a change for the better, and the following week the relayers finished a smart second to Colgate in the Millrose Meet, outstepping the Villanover and Boston College entries.

While the relaymen were notching their only win of the campaign up in the Boston B. A. A. games next Saturday, the other representatives of Rhode Island were monopolizing top honors at the Harvard Invitation meet in Cambridge. The milers scored over Syracuse and Bates. Wilcox, Cromwell, Krueger, and

Bagshaw, Black, Dixon, Gosling, Coach Tootell

Jewett annexed four out of five possible places to lend a decided Rhode Island tinge to the Cambridge meet.

The much-publicized, dropped-baton incident, occurring in the New York A. C. meet, eliminated the State-steppers from any consideration. Until the unfortunate mishandling of the stick, it was anybody's race, but the mis-slip on the exchange from Dixon to Bagshaw ruined the evening for the Rhody-men.

Obviously still feeling the effects of the previous week's mishap, Rhode Island slipped to fifth place in the National A. A. U. meet held in Madison Square Garden on Washington's birthday.

Despite the fact that they ran their fastest time of the year in the I. C. 4A Meet on March 1, the Ram relayers' time of 3 minutes and 23 seconds was not good enough to qualify them, and the laurels for the evening went to the weightmen. Big Jack Krueger uncorked his best heave of the season, and incidentally a State record, to put the shot at 50 feet 8½ inches, a throw that put him second only to Al Blozis of Georgetown. Norm Wilcox tossed the 35 lb. weight 52 ft. 11 inches to garner a third place in that event. Frankie Cromwell continued to display his competitive ability by vaulting 13 feet to earn a tie for first place while Mel Jewett completed the Ram scoring for the night when he cleared the bar at 5 feet 11½ inches to finish in a tie for fifth place.

In the last meet of the indoor season Rhode Island bowed to Seton Hall for the second time in the Knights of Columbus meet held in New York.

SUMMARY OF THE VARSITY BASKETBALL SEASON

Rhode Island's Basketball teams have always offered something colorful, something exciting for as many winters as Coach Keaney has coached the sport, but certainly never did a championship club receive more student enthusiasm, support, and demonstration than did this past winter's edition of the Keaney cagers.

Playing through a difficult 24 game schedule, with a post-season game in Madison Square Garden, the Rams rang up 21 wins against 4 losses. One of these reverses was by the margin of one point, another by 4 points. Connecticut U., Springfield, Temple, and Seton Hall were the Rhody conquerors. All four games were lost away from home, the Seton Hall setback coming in the Sportswriters Tournament at Madison Square Garden.

The Keaneymen made it a clean sweep over Providence College and Brown University, and finished in a tie for first place with Connecticut in the New England Conference. With a stiffer schedule, the Rams encountered some formidable opposition, and the St. Josephs, Temple, Franklin and Marshall, Wayne and St. Francis games offered some thrilling bits of basketball. Likewise the Connecticut tilt at Storrs and the Brown go at Providence were exciting, emotional thrillers.

Individually no one player was outstanding, but it would be well to mention that Warner Keaney, Bud Conley, played 25 games of great basketball, and their graduation leaves a gap which will be difficult to fill. Stanley Modzelewski, Bill Rutledge, Earl Shannon, and Bob Applebee together with the above-named two carried the brunt of the work throughout while Wicks, Harvey, and Abbruzzi also made splendid showings in relief roles. Other members of the squad who saw considerable action were French, Obradovich, Lownds, McNally, Sperling, and Pansa.

R. I. 102, ALUMNI 56

The most streamlined quintet in Rhode Island's history opened its 1940-41 basketball season with a smashing triumph over the Alumni by a score of 102-56. The present team matched every star of yesteryear with a star of its own and won easily. Co-captain Bud Conley, commenced his last year of basketball, was the high scorer of the evening with a grand total of 33 points. He was closely followed by Stutz Modzelewski, the nation's leading scorer in 1939-40 who had 27 tallies. For the Alumni, Chet Jaworski, starred with his all-around playmaking and top total of 13 points, a meager amount for the former ace.

R. I. 33, LOWELL TEXTILE 38

The Rams chalked their second victory of the campaign by trouncing the Textilers by a margin of 45 points, 83-38. The visitors were no match for the fast Keaneymen who scored at will. Once again Coach Keaney used his reserves profusely and they showed to good advantage. Bill Rutledge was moved to a forward post in this game and performed handsomely tallying 14 points to finish second to Modzelewski who had 18, high for the game. Co-captain Warner Keaney excelled defensively clearing the boards with monotonous regularity. Bob Applebee, his mate, played well and also tallied 12 markers.

The big six

R. I. 67, FRANKLIN & MARSHALL 44

The first team to face State from outside New England, was an easy foe and succumbed by a score of 67-44. Franklin & Marshall, a highly regarded representative from Pennsylvania gave Rhody a close battle for one half, but the superbly conditioned Rams, waltzed away from them in the second half and thus remained unbeaten. The Keaneymen had to come from behind to win this ballgame after trailing in the early part of the first half. The F & M's were the first of two teams from Pennsylvania to invade Kingston, the other being St. Joseph's College also from Philadelphia.

R. I. 74, ST. JOSEPH 66

The Rams chalked their second consecutive victory over a Pennsylvania rival in three days when they outlasted the St. Joseph's quintet to win by 74-66. A late surge by the visitors fell just short of catching the Rams and the latter tallied several important points in the late minutes of the game. The Philadelphians, boasting only one senior, and the rest juniors and sophomores, were very impressive and gave the Statemen their first real tough contest. Their only senior, Larry Kenney, gave a very good exhibition of floor work featured by his behind-the back dribble. His markmanship was also of the best variety as was proven by his total of 23 points. Coach Ferguson and his squad were impressed with the Kingston campus and praised the care given them by the students.

R. I. 83, NEW HAMPSHIRE 34

New Hampshire University came to Kingston and was smothered under an avalanche of Rhody baskets to the tune of 83-34. This was one of the worst defeats ever pinned by State on a conference opponent. The victory was also the first of the New England Conference. The Swaseymen were woefully weak as the score proves, and were the first victims of 1941.

R. I. 92, U. OF MAINE 52

The University of Maine fared no better than their northern mates, from New Hampshire, and was trimmed by a 40 point margin, 92-52. The Oronomen displayed an inexperienced but large squad who held on doggedly for one half of the game but yielded in the second stanza. The Bears were the second conference foes and victims and thus gave the Rams their sixth consecutive win of the year.

R. I. 70, PROVIDENCE COLLEGE 42

The annual clash held at the R. I. Auditorium between Rhode Island and Providence College resulted in a victory for the Keaneymen for the third straight year. The Friars were never in the ball game and their weak attempts to stop the Rams were unsuccessful. The superior Kingstonians had too much all around excellence for the Crottymen and won with ease. Rutledge and Conley starred offensively while Keaney and Shannon sparked the defense. Substitutions were made freely by the Rams and the latter performed well. The Smith-hillers, presenting one of their smallest squads in years, were undefeated up until this time and showed promise.

R. I. 83, NORTHEASTERN U. 53

The first contest between the Rams and the Huskies resulted in a victory for the locals by a score of 83-53. The game was played at Kingston and maintained the Rams' unbeaten streak at home for the current campaign. Modzelewski tallied 26 points and starred offensively.

R. I. 34, MASSACHUSETTS STATE 39

In the first game of the second semester, the Rams started another winning streak at the expense of a green outfit from Amherst. The visitors offered little opposition to the smooth working Ram unit.

R. I. 60, WAYNE UNIVERSITY 52

A newcomer to last season's schedule, Wayne University of Detroit, nearly upset the appiecart, but succumbed in the final half to the better conditioned home club.

R. I. 39, BROWN UNIVERSITY 43

In a game which convincingly showed the true caliber of last season's club, the Rams rode rough shod over a Brown five, which had spoiled their season last year. The game was hardly five minutes old, before the Keaneymen began to pour in the points from any angle with unerring accuracy. Except for Menty's frequent substitution, the final score could have easily surpassed the century mark.

R. I. 90, UNIVERSITY OF MAINE 45

The annual Northern trip seemed to have its usual set of victories in store for the Rhode Island five, for it doubled the home team's teams score to win handily. The Maine folk were mighty satisfied that the Rams did not duplicate the century score made there a few years ago.

R. I. 72, NEW HAMPSHIRE UNIV. 31

The second game of the Northern Trip proved to be the easier of the two, as the Swaseymen failed to put a damper on the Conference title aspirations of the men from Rhody.

R. I. 57, NORTHEASTERN 28

Coach Jimmy Dunn of the Huskies gave strict orders to freeze the ball conceding victory in the hope of keeping Rhode Island from rolling up a too impressive total. It worked during the first half, but in the second session the plan backfired, with the result that Northeastern was held to the lowest score of any of the Rams' opponents during the entire season.

R. I. 96, WORCESTER TECH 67

Try as he might, Coach Keaney could not keep the score from mounting into the nineties. The RAMS were hot, and it was Worcester's misfortune to be their opponent that night. Bud Conley, senior forward personally led the assault with a total of forty points, his high for one game during four years of playing collegiate ball.

R. I. 42, TUFTS COLLEGE 28

In a game which the Rams turned into a farce, because of the actions of the home club, Tufts gained the honor of scoring the least number of points against the Rams, which it could share with Northeastern University. The Jumbos resorted to the old freezing game, but when the Rams, try as they might to give the fans a basketball game, finally resorted to the home teams own style of play, they were greeted with a chorus of boos. Coach Keaney, who was the target of the boos, disgusted at the poor showing of sportsmanship displayed, left the bench and took the squad with him. The Rams had little trouble in maintaining an early acquired lead.

R. I. 50, SPRINGFIELD COLLEGE 59

In a game which saw the Rams lose their third game of the season, the Springfield College Maroons pinned a surprising defeat on the highly heralded Rhode Island Crew. A packed house watched the contest and saw a team weary from the strain of continuous competition succumb before an inspired crew that was playing its last game of the year for a coach who was closing his coaching career. Ed Hickox, the Maroon mentor, had his boys tuned to the victory march, and they looked like sure winners throughout the contest, even after the Rams had come from behind to tie the game at 50 all with but five minutes remaining to play.

R. I. 79, U. OF CONNECTICUT 61

Connecticut University's undefeated Huskies came to Kingston very confident of capturing the contest but instead went back to Storrs a soundly beaten club. The Rams held Donnelly and Company well in check during the early part of the game and as the visitors tired in the later stages, they went to town. The final outcome left no doubt as to which was the better team. Warner Keaney did a good job in holding Donnelly to only 15 points. Conley, Rutledge, and Modzelewski provided enough to make the victory sure. It was the fifth straight triumph over Connecticut in three years. They had won nine straight before competing in New York.

R. I. 57, ST. FRANCIS 42

Putting on a great show, before 18,000 fans, the Keaneymen defeated St. Francis College from Brooklyn by a score of 57-42. It was their first appearance in Madison Square Garden and a very impressive one. It was good enough to warrant their return later in the year in the Writers' Tourney. Stutz set the high scoring mark of the season there with 22 points and the all around play of the Rams was appreciated by the New Yorkers, who "took to the wide open style of play of the locals like a duck takes to water." They set a scoring record for one half by tallying 42 points and would have compiled a game record but for a spell of hard luck in the second stanza. A RAM SPECIAL accompanied the team to New York and brought over 1000 rooters to cheer them on to victory. Several hundred more made the trip by car.

R. I. 38, TEMPLE 42

Making an unbelievable comeback in the second half, the Rhode Island Rams basketball team just failed to win their game with Temple University at Convention Hall, Philadelphia and lost by four points 42-38 in overtime. The contest was one of the best there in years. The Kingstonsians were held to 8 points in the initial half and came back to shut the home team out for 14 minutes of the last period and hold them to five points. It was the greatest ever made by a Keaney coached team and thrilled the capacity crowd of 16,000 no end. This was their first setback in 11 games.

R. I. 80, SPRINGFIELD 47

The Rams scored an easy win over their Eastern Massachusetts rivals whom they had not met the year before, to the tune of 80-47. It was their 13th consecutive triumph at home of the year and kept their record clean for the second straight year. The Hickoxmen although a big lot, could not cope with the uncanny shooting of the locals and the latter's condition was too good for the Indians.

R. I. 62, CONNECTICUT 63

In one of the roughest and worst officiated games ever played at Storrs, the Keaneymen were nosed out by one point and thus suffered their second defeat of the season in 21 games. The game was stopped several times and several riots threatened to break out. The Rams made a stirring comeback after trailing throughout most of the game and only poor officiating kept them from winning. This loss placed them in a tie for the New England Conference championship with the Huskies making it the fifth year in a row that State either was sole champion of the conference or was part title holder. Overcrowded conditions at the Hawley gym hampered the players no little.

R. I. 98, PROVIDENCE 71

Compiling their second largest total of points scored all season, the Kingstonsians swamped an inferior Friar quintet at Rodman Hall by a score of 98-71. The Smith-Hillers tried vainly to match the Rams shot for shot with some success at first but weakened in the end. Bud Conley and Warner Keaney making their final appearances before the home fans played splendidly, the former tallying 29 points the high for the night and the latter playing a good defensive game. This victory clinched the state series for the Rams for the second third consecutive year.

R. I. 75, BROWN UNIVERSITY 74

A vastly different Brown team from the one which succumbed to the Ram slaughter earlier in the season took the court at Marvel Gymnasium for the Rams' last regularly scheduled game. But the Rams were out to break the jinx which had dogged them every year for the last three. The game was played hard and fast throughout, with the officials taking turns in being too lax and too strict. However, it wasn't until the last minute of play that the real excitement began. With the Rams one point behind, Bud Conley made fast work of his free throw and sent the game into the overtime. Then it was for Jim Harvey, a substitute, to come into the game when Conley fouled out and with the coolness and calm of a veteran scored a basket and free throw in rapid succession to give the Rams the victory. It was a fine climax to the best season enjoyed by any previous Keaney coached five.

R. I. 54, SETON HALL 70

In the annual Sportswriters Invitation Tournament in New York, the Rams had the misfortune to meet, at that time, the hottest team in the country in the person of Seton Hall College. These boys from South Orange were red hot and they never let up. They were led by one of the best players ever to appear on the Garden floor in Bob Davies, who personally led his team's assault. The Rhody men, weakened by illness, which kept Warner Keaney and Bill Rutledge from attaining top form didn't look like their usual self. This loss eliminated the Keaneys from further competition this year and still left them leading the pack in New England.

RESUME OF THE FRESHMAN BASKETBALL SEASON

Consistent with his policy of other years, Coach Keaney took his group of comparatively raw, inexperienced first year men, schooled them in the fundamentals of basketball the Keaney way, and moulded a squad with characteristic Keaney success. Perhaps not as formidable as the showing of recent Ramlet court clubs, but every bit as creditable, was the record of seven wins and four losses which the frosh hoopsters registered in averaging 61.3 points per game.

Somewhat sluggish at the start, the team work and shooting improved noticeably with every game, and by the end of the schedule the yearlings were a smooth, well-coordinated unit. Two of the four reverses were by one and two point margins, but in the season's wind-up the Brown basketweavers thoroughly shellacked the Ramlets, in the process amassing the highest total ever tallied against any Rhode Island court team. The State yearlings were twice upset by Providence College, and they split the series with both Brown and Connecticut.

George Mearns was easily the ace performer for the team as well as their most prolific scorer. He looms as the most serious threat for a varsity berth next year. Norm Merette shone offensively, and played some nice games until he was declared scholastically ineligible. Jack Doherty, Ted Cole, Nat Federico, George Gill, Dave Hedison, and Walt Sullivan composed the rest of the squad which saw considerable service over the season's schedule.

OUTING CLUB

There was a renewed interest in this club on the campus the past year, and increased membership evidenced the growing popularity of this organization. On other collegiate campuses, the outing club, or similar organizations, is a very active, thriving group, and there is every reason to believe that this comparatively infantile club will rank on a par with the major campus activities within a short time. Hiking, skiing, fishing, swimming, picnicking, and boating comprise the major interests of this club.

RESUME OF THE 1940 TRACK SEASON

Track is by no means a minor sport here at Rhode Island State College. Over a period of years Coach Fred D. Tootell has elevated the name of Rhody high among the leading track and field teams of the East. In fact, many larger universities found it wiser to discontinue athletic relations with State rather than risk the loss of prestige which a defeat would necessarily occasion.

Extending their dual meet victory trail over a five year period, the Tootellmen triumphed over some formidable opposition last spring, including Manhattan, Boston College, and Brown. Most disheartening, however, were the results of the New Englands. After a three year supremacy, Rhode Island bowed to Holy Cross, losing by the slimmest of all margins, one quarter of a point.

Outstanding performers during the spring season were Senecal, Wilcox, Oliver, Fort, Dixon, Black, the Perkinses, and Kelman.

RESUME OF THE FRESHMAN

TRACK SEASON

Without a doubt, the most exceptional, best-balanced, and individually brilliant Ramlet track team ever to appear at Rhode Island blossomed forth last spring, and they compiled one of the most envious records ever recorded in the annals of Rhode Island track teams. A glance at their amazing record reveals that in every dual meet, these first year men tallied at least 100 points while new Freshman records were set by Krueger, Low, Bagshaw, Nichols, and Taylor.

Preliminary warm-up meets with the best track teams among the State high schools were quite one-sided, and Lockwood, Westerly, Mt. Pleasant, Hope, Cranston, LaSalle, and Central were disposed of with relative ease. In the same fashion Connecticut and Brown offered little resistance, and both succumbed to the all-around power of the Ram yearlings.

MEET RESUME OF THE VARSITY TRACK SEASON

R. I. 85, BOSTON COLLEGE 50

In the opening meet of the year the Tootell tracksters toppled Boston College at Meade field. Superiority in the running events provided State its ample margin of victory. New field marks were created by the Perkins in the pole vault and javelin, and by Al Morro of the Eagles with a discus heave of 156 feet 9 inches.

R. I. 77, MANHATTAN 58

On this occasion, Ram dominance in the field events spelled defeat for the classy Manhattanites. Wilcox and Black were double-winners while the New Yorkers controlled the distance races.

R. I. 92, BROWN 33

Extending their streak to 16 straight wins, the Rhody trackmen won handily over their traditional rivals, capturing all but a few first places. Senecal was the only double winner of the pleasant afternoon.

R. I. 104, NEW HAMPSHIRE 31

Rhody's rout of the New Hampshire track contingent represented the season's peak in form. All but two first places were garnered by the "blue" cinder-men. Kirk and Flaherty were the mainstays of the not-so-victorious Wildcats.

The winner

They're off!

R. I. CONNECTICUT

Always a stumbling block in the Ram path, a dogged Nutmegger crew was forced to yield to a persistent State attack. Rice, Koch, and Conley were outstanding for the Storrsmen.

NEICAAA MEET

After riding roughshod over all opposition throughout the season, Rhode Island was forced to yield the track crown to Holy Cross although actually only one-quarter of a point separated victor from vanquished at the finish. Even more disappointing, however, was the fact that a win for the Rams would have insured permanent possession of the huge trophy which had been retained in Kingston the past three years.

The meet followed form for the most part, and was not decided until the last event, the 220 yard dash had been run off. Holy Cross placed McShane and Johnson one and two in this event to clinch the meet.

Bob Dixon finished a pretty second in the 440, then picked up a fourth in the 880 while the javelin crew of Davis, Perkins, and Whaley produced handsomely.

The final total was Holy Cross 27 points, Rhode Island 26 $\frac{3}{4}$  points.

ICAAAAA MEET

Participating in only a few scattered events, the Rhody representatives collected six points, chiefly through the efforts of Ed and Ken Perkins and Bub Whaley. This aggregate gave Rhode Island a tie for 16th place.

Pittsburgh University's well-balanced unit won the meet with 29 $\frac{1}{2}$  points, Penn State was second with 24, and Yale third with 20 points.

SUMMARY OF THE 1940 VARSITY BASEBALL SEASON

Even while Coach Tootell's forces were being toppled from atop the track heap, Coach Keaney's baseballers were relinquishing the Conference crown to Northeastern. Weakness at the plate, always a chronic ailment of current State nines, evidenced itself in the more important, major games and resulted in the loss of many close one-point and extra-inning games. The hurling staff of Keaney, Abbruzzi, and Rutledge pitched capably enough to win more games than they did, but the inability of their mates to hit in the clutches often meant the difference of victory and defeat.

The Keaneymen encountered their disastrous losing streak in the week from May 4 to May 11, losing four out of five tilts. Northeastern swept a double header, each game a one-run win, New Hampshire copped a 5-3 win, and Connecticut after 11 innings emerged victorious 7-6. The intra-state mythical championship ended in a complete stymie inasmuch as Providence College twice tripped Rhode Island while yielding two to Brown, and Rhode Island tamed the Brown bear on two occasions.

Bud Jones, playing in 8 games, led the team batting with a mark of .353 while Duke Abbruzzi had a mark of .327 for all 13 games. Bud Conley (.314) and Lyman Cranston (.313) were the only other Ram stickers to finish in the select circle: "Hikey" Hedison with a perfect average and Warner Keaney (.972) posted the best fielding averages. For the coming campaign Coach Keaney's veteran nine returning, and with a few valuable additions from the freshmen, the prospects for a good season appear very favorable after one or two key positions have been filled.

1940 VARSITY BASEBALL SEASON

RHODE ISLAND 12, LOWELL TEXTILE 1

Duke Abbruzzi, State veteran moundsman and infielder, led Rhode Island to an overwhelming 12 to 1 victory over Lowell Textile, in the season opening at Kingston.

Lyman Cranston, sensational Sophomore gardener, as well as the Duke led the attack at the plate with three hits each. In all, the Rams garnered eighteen hits which were good for 26 bases to score an easy victory.

RHODE ISLAND 14, MAINE 1

Led by the impressive pitching of Sophomore Bill Rutledge, State won its second straight game at the expense of the University of Maine. Coach Keaney used Duke Abbruzzi and his son Warner as well as "Billy" on the mound due to the damp weather.

At the plate Frank Zammarchi and Bud Conley led the State onslaught with three hits each. The State batsmen collected a grand total of 15 hits. Johnston, the Bear's first baseman and Mann, their catcher, sparkled defensively and offensively.

RHODE ISLAND 0, PROVIDENCE COLLEGE 8

The Providence College nine stopped the State two-game winning streak with an 8 to 0 whitewashing. Amby Reynolds, Providence's star hurler, set back the State batsmen with only three scattered hits. Jim Leo led the visitors with three hits.

RHODE ISLAND 13, BOSTON 6

State returned to the winning column by beating Boston University at Boston by a score of 13 to 6. Duke Abbruzzi won his second game of the season by pitching effectively in the clutches.

Bud Conley again led the State batters by collecting four out of five, including a home-run and a triple.

RHODE ISLAND 3, NEW HAMPSHIRE 5

State lost its second game of the season to the University of New Hampshire nine by a score of 5 to 3. Bill Rutledge started on the mound for Rhode Island, and did some fine pitching. It was the first victory for New Hampshire in two years over the Keaneymen.

RHODE ISLAND 2, NORTHEASTERN 3

RHODE ISLAND 4, NORTHEASTERN 5

Rhode Island suffered a double defeat at the hands of Northeastern. Both games were lost in the last innings. Duke Abbruzzi and Bill Rutledge were the pitching victims, although they hurled well enough to win. The Rams attack was light. Frank Zammarchi and Lyman Cranston did well for State team at bat and in the field.

RHODE ISLAND 5, BROWN 1

Keaney pitched the Rams to a 5 to 1 victory over their intra-state rivals, Brown. The victory was the fourth of the season for the Ram nine.

Rhode Island's big inning came in the third when they gathered three runs to go into the lead which they never relinquished.

RHODE ISLAND 6, CONNECTICUT 7

Rhode Island lost a hard fought game in an extra inning clash at Storrs. A home run by the Connecticut pitcher was the deciding factor.

State batsmen outthit the home team with eleven safe hits. Zammarchi, Conley, Cranston, and Abbruzzi led the Ram attack at the plate.

RHODE ISLAND 11, WORCESTER 1

Featured by the pitching of Warner Keaney, who held Worcester Tech hitless for seven innings. The State nine swamped the Engineers eleven to one. The Rams collected 19 hits of every variety.

ACE UTILITY MAN

His name and fame were never heralded to any appreciable extent, yet the role which Frank Zammarchi has played for Rhode Island State College baseball nines these past four years has been a truly valuable one. It is only fitting that his efforts receive some special consideration and commendation here. Coach Keaney, more than anybody else, is probably aware of the valuable versatility of "Zam", his ace utility man, whom he has always called upon to fill any weak spot in the line-up. And true to form, the likeable Zammarchi has never failed to produce in his make-shift position.

An all-Massachusetts selection for third base for two consecutive years, Zammarchi covered the hot corner during the freshman campaign. Since that time, however, he has seen service at second base, behind the bat, and in the outfield. At present "Zam" holds down the key-stone sack, but there is no telling what position he will finally take over should a change in the line-up be necessary.

Zammarchi is a deadly sticker, especially in the pinches, a smooth fielder, and a smart, heady, polished performer. His type of ball-player is too much taken for granted, seldom, if ever, fully appreciated by the average baseball fan.

TENNIS

Along with many other things, Spring brings with it the sport of the swingsters, not the dancers in this case, but the varsity tennis competition. The bank and the lawn behind the sororities, facing the courts, have served as a very handy gallery for some time now, for the crowds who turn out regularly on warm, sunny afternoons to cheer the Rhode Island netmen on to victory. For tennis, recognized only for the past two years as a varsity sport, is rapidly becoming popular here at Rhode Island.

True enough, the Ram tennister's record of 2 wins and 5 losses does not appear very impressive on paper, and it must be admitted that they experienced a poor season. Nevertheless, when it is considered that each game of their northern trip, Bates and New Hampshire, was decided by a single point, and the Maine match by two points a better idea of their relative strength can be obtained. Captain Gus Ide, the sole letterman of Coach Knickerbocker's team, was consistently the best performer over the season's schedule. Generally speaking, the rest of the team, owing to a lack of varsity experience and competitive play, could not measure up to the standards of the opposition which they encountered. Those men earning their letter were Harold Warren, Vito D'Ambra, Al Villatico, and Fred Tew. Other Rhody netmen were Hey, Ferguson, Godowski, Robinson, and Kelley.

Villatico, Tew, Hey, and Ferguson will be returning this spring, while French, Bayha, and Allen should prove valuable additions from last year's freshman team.

GOLF

Rhode Island's youngest intercollegiate sport, golf, enjoyed a very successful debut last spring with a record of 6 wins and 3 defeats. Playing much stiffer opposition as a result of its new lettersport status, the Ram golfers, overcoming a shaky start, proceeded to bowl over all comers with monotonous regularity.

Caught in the throes of an early season slump, Coach Cieurzo's divot-diggers yielded three decisions to Harvard, Brown, and M. I. T. after which they settled down to go undefeated for the remainder of the schedule. Martin whose game hovered in the middle seventies in every match, played the best golf all spring, and was a contender for the New England championship. Bob and Lloyd

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

For those whose abilities are not of varsity calibre, intramural sports afford an opportunity for fraternity men and affiliates of various campus organizations to participate in all sports. The many contests are always hard-fought, but clean, and the different leagues provide much fun and rivalry for all who compete.

Seeking to increase the efficiency of the many leagues and to further coordinate their functions, Coach Paul Cieurzo working with representatives of the Polygon has introduced a new intramural system, an aggregate point system, which will include ping pong and volleyball as competitive sports. The outstanding intramural fraternity will be that one which amasses the highest total of points from September through May. As in past years, however, trophies will be donated for individual sports.

Theta Chi and Beta Phi exercised a virtual monopoly over the fraternity leagues last spring. Theta Chi captured both the track and the baseball titles while Beta Phi was runner-up in both these departments. Krueger, varsity weight-man, accounted for many of Theta Chi's points while Lewis was Beta Phi's high man.

In the newly formed touch football league Beta Phi became the first campus champ by virtue of their final victory over Sigma Alpha Epsilon in the playoffs.

Beta Psi Alpha — Basketball Champs

The scores of these four games necessary to crown the champion were 38-30 (S. A. E.), 6-6, 19-0 (Beta Phi), and 32-18 (Beta Phi). Theta Chi with Bud Conley and Al Pansar, and Rho Iota Kappa with Lownds and Smith starring were strong clubs.

Maintaining their supremacy in the fall sports, Beta Phi retained the cross-country title for the second consecutive year when they bunched five men among the first eleven finishers. For the winners Lewis led the pack finishing 5th, Zweir followed in 6th place, Hildebrand 8th, Bridges 9th, and Callahan 11th. Glen Wood, off-campus representative, won the mile and a quarter race by a comfortable margin over Smith of P. I. K., which fraternity captured second place.

Beta Psi Alpha brought an end to Beta Phi domination in the basketball ranks by annexing the court championship in a three game series. Beta Psi eked out a 37-36 win in the opening game, dropped the second 54-29, but roared back with a pretty exhibition of teamwork and brilliant shooting to take the rubber game 49-25. Federicci, Codola, and DeCesare, were the offensive stand-outs, Romano and Renola the defensive stars and play-makers. The defeat was especially bitter for Beta Phi since a win would have retired the permanent trophy for them. Rockwell and Zweir were Beta Psi mainstays throughout the tense series.

Fraternity Baseball

The sport of ping-pong, enjoying intramural competition and supervision for the first time, was successfully inaugurated, and eliminations were run off without any difficulty. Al Strehlke of Sigma Alpha Epsilon displayed championship form in finally outclassing Charley Goldstein of Alpha Epsilon Pi to win the singles crown. In the doubles matches Alpha Epsilon Pi emerged the winner as the combination of Sperling and Goldstein remained undefeated in the elimination series.

Shortly before Easter vacation the volleyball championship was decided when Rho Iota Kappa conquered Beta Phi in the finals with relative ease. The entire team of Smith, Hannah, Lownds, Doherty, McCabe, and Prybyla played exceptionally well, and their superiority was easily apparent. Rockwell, Lewis, and Clegg were the losers' best bets.

This spring Theta Chi will be defending two titles, track and baseball, and although they seem certain to retain the track title, some sturdy competition will be provided for them by Beta Phi, last year's finalists, Rho Iota Kappa, and Beta Psi Alpha.

The leagues this year are divided into the American and National leagues, and the final champion will be decided when the top team from each league clashes in the mythical campus series, the best two out of three games. A smaller, near-sized baseball has been introduced, and both the distance to the bases and the distance from home-plate to the pitcher's mound have been lengthened to regulation distance in order to approach real baseball playing conditions as much as possible.

Beta Phi — Football Champs

Rho Iota Kappa boasts of two new additions from varsity and freshman ranks in Lownds and Ward to supplement their veteran team of Maher, Mantenuto, La-vallee, Obradovich, Smith, Moreau, and Dubee.

Theta Chi will depend upon Tracy, Giordano, Siravo, Carpenter, McFawn, and Morel, holdovers from last year's nine, to retain their title, but they have numerous key positions to fill, the most noticeable weak link being the pitching slot.

Except for one position, Beta Phi will field the same club which finished in the runner-up berth last spring, and they must be considered a serious challenge to the other leading fraternities. Among those returning to the baseball wars for Beta Phi will be Zweir, Clegg, Rockwell, Callahan, Peck, Gil and Bob Gelineau.

Beta Psi Alpha with DeCesare, Picozzi, and Federicci will be stronger, Sigma Alpha Epsilon with Modzelewski and Johnson will be greatly improved, and these two fraternities may develop into the dark horses of the race.

Beta Phi — Cross Country Champs

COACH JO LEES

JOSEPHINE TOWNSEND LEES

THERE has been on the campus a faculty member to whom the students felt free to come with their individual problems. This person is Josephine Townsend Lees—more commonly known as just plain "Joey." The majority of students, both male and female, have found Joey a sympathetic listener, an untiring worker, and an all-around good sport. Much of Joey's work is done a la Robin Hood style. While you are discussing your difficulty with Joey, her large brown eyes will snap and then you know that she has some plan in mind. You perhaps will never know when or how your problem was solved, but presto change, you suddenly find that one day all of your troubles have been ironed out. If you stopped to figure how this all happened (and very few of us ever bother) you will find that far out of the limelight Joey has been at work again.

Joey was born in the northeastern section of Pennsylvania in the large city of Bethlehem. In high school she was very active, having been captain of both the swimming and tennis teams, athletic editor of the school magazine, secretary of her class, and one of the speakers at the commencement exercises. While in high school, Joey worked diligently trying to get her school to participate in inter-school varsity sports. To this day Liberty High School is carrying on the fight.

Joey entered Pennsylvania State College in September, 1926, matriculating in the School of Liberal Arts. Here she began her career as one of the outstanding members of the Nu Gamma chapter of the Chi Omega Sorority. For four years she was a member of the Women's Athletic Association of which she was president her senior year, vice-president of the Glee Club, a member of the College Choir, secretary of Phi Sigma Iota, national honorary romance language fraternity, and a member of the Mortar Board. At Penn State a silver athletic cup is given to the woman athlete who has obtained a score of 175 points. Usually this presentation is made to a senior; Joey, however, earned a varsity "S" sweater and she had accumulated enough points to obtain the silver cup her Junior year. This was the first and only time that a junior girl was able to accomplish such a feat. Joey participated in varsity hockey, track, rifle, basketball, and baseball. She used her fine athletic abilities throughout the summer vacations by acting as head athletic counselor at Camp Rohman, Downingtown, Pennsylvania. In 1929 another honor was bestowed on Miss Lees when she was chosen to represent the college at a sectional athletic convention at North Carolina College; later she was also sent to the national convention at the University of Michigan. June 1930, marked the end of Joey's brilliant college career as she graduated from Penn State, third honor girl in her class.

The year 1931 was a very fortunate one for Rhode Island State for Joey came to this college to act as secretary to President Raymond G. Bressler, and to instruct in English. As a side line Joey coached varsity sports and held evening classes in clog dancing. In 1934 she had charge of the entire varsity program and the Women's Physical Education Department. Assuming her athletic duties at Rhode Island she immediately began to broaden the athletic picture. Schedules were lengthened, the constitution of the Women's Athletic Association was revamped and modernized, managers were named through a definite promotion system, and systematic records were maintained for both intramural and intercollegiate sports. Under Miss Lees much progress was made in varsity sports until today women's athletics at Rhode Island are on a par with the men's teams. Joey's fine coaching has allowed her teams to compete with such teams as Posse, Savage, Drexel, Boston All-Stars, Ursinus, Panser, Beaver, and Temple. The Ramettes take long trips, have an annual banquet, award R. I. sweaters to the varsity athletes and certificates to the squad members. An extensive intramural program was also planned and carried out each year. One of Joey's other novel ideas was the inauguration of faculty and student nights. The admiration and respect the girls have for their coach is proven by the unselfish training rules that her athletes maintain. The co-eds train daily and even conduct pre-season practices, remain on campus during recesses, and pass up dances just so that they may present their best on the field of combat.

In 1940 Joey began to work for a Master's degree at Columbia University in New York. After attending school for only approximately five months she was elected to membership in Pi Lambda Theta, an honorary fraternity for women in education. "This fraternity strives to foster professional spirit and to encourage high standards in professional training and research. Miss Lees is qualified for membership because she has given an indication of unusual professional interest, social competence, and promise in the field of education."

This fall Joey undertook another task—for years she has tried to find a hockey book that contained new techniques and ideas. Upon not being able to find such a publication she proceeded to write an up-to-date book entitled "Field Hockey for Girls." This book will be released by the Barnes Publishing Company in the fall of 1941. The book was accepted by the publishers over various other hockey manuals because of its fine presentation, explanations, and descriptions of hockey. This is a tribute to Joey's system of hockey for her work will be distributed and copied throughout the United States.

Joey's fine, all-around record reassures us that the absence of this dynamic person will be greatly felt by the administration and the students. After nine years of sincere hard work in the Physical Education Department, Joey leaves this campus to work for a Doctor's degree at Columbia University. We, the class of 1941, realize how fortunate we have been to have Joey remain with us during our four years at Rhode Island State—an experience and pleasure for which no amount of money can be laid down as an initial payment.

Good luck and the best of everything to you, Joey!

The gate receipts from the infamous Tarzan-Amazon game played in 1937 helped to send three members of the hockey squad to hockey camp at Mt. Pocono, Pa. Co-captains Margaret Thackeray and Anna Moskalyk, and Miriam Shanley were instructed by Constance K. Appleby.

A squad of 24 members returned Freshman Week to start hockey practice. The first game was played September 28th with the Alums. The Kingston ladies easily won this opener by a score of 5-0. The Rhode Island hockey team ended the 1940 season with only two defeats. The Boston Field Hockey Club composed of players who have been on the All American team edged out the Ramlettes by a 4-3 victory. This was the first time the All-Stars performed in Kingston, and it is hoped that this game will remain on the Rhode Island schedule. Rhode Island also bowed to the powerful Ursinus Team; the Ramlettes could not hold the famous stick handlers from Philadelphia, who scored a total of 6 goals—more than all of the other Rhode Island opponents could total combined.

The fine scoring of the sophomore left inner, Nancy Carpenter, helped Rhode Island to roll up a total of 29 goals. Nancy was high scorer with 10 goals; Marjory Whitaker ranked second with 7 goals. The fine defensive work of Co-Captains Moskalyk and Thackeray, Jane Sanborn, Ann Chaharyn, and Miriam Shanley, helped to keep the number of goals scored by opponents down to 11. The varsity team was most successful while on tour in New York. There games with Hofstra and N. Y. U. were won. The hockey game at Hofstra was played after four days of rain—mud packs were the vogue. While playing the N. Y. U. game the R. I. team had a bit of difficulty in scoring because of the snow. In this contest, Marjory Whitaker's stick broke and upon receiving another she immediately scored the only goal of the game.

This year Coach Lees loses eight varsity players; these are Captains Thackeray and Moskalyk, Barbara Webster, Betty Williams, Hazel Joyce, Jane Sanborn, Ann Chaharyn, and Alice Jewell.

Kingston, "the center of the basketball kingdom," was also the center of some fancy shooting by the women athletes. After eliminating many girls, Joey still had 36 athletes who were worthy of remaining on the basketball squad. With such a large number the coach was able to schedule both varsity and junior varsity games. This year the Ramlettes played 11 teams, the majority of which came from outside of New England. The opening game was played with the alums; although many former stars returned to the scene the Rhode Island hoopsterettes were able to overcome this strong team.

For the third consecutive year Betty Benheimer was the highest scorer with a total of 79 points. Nancy Carpenter came in second with 58 points. The basketball team will greatly miss the nucleus of the team with the graduation of the two fine guards Hazel Joyce and Jane Sanborn. Co-captain Mary Clarkin will be the only guard remaining from this great trio.

The following girls made varsity basketball this year: Co-captains Hazel Joyce and Jane Sanborn, Mary Clarkin, Betty Benheimer, Jane Barlow, Betty Williams, Anna Moskalyk, Nancy Carpenter, Muriel Selbey, and Mary D'Arcy.

With the majority of the regulars returning plus the additional stars discovered on the junior varsity, the Rhode Island basketball team should soar to new heights in 1942.

Captain ..... MARGUERITE KENT

Approximately 35 co-eds answered Sergeant Friel's call for a women's varsity rifle team. By the process of elimination the following girls were chosen to represent Rhode Island State: Virginia Bryce, Patricia Damon, Muriel Deizel, Ruth Goeckel, Helen Halipos, Marguerite Kent, Myra Palmer, Louise Platt, Miriam Shanley, and Jeanne Smith. The skill of the Rhode Island sharpshooters is proven by the fact that in a match the girls' team was able to out-shoot the men's team.

Last year for the first time the Woman's Rifle Club awarded letters to two of its senior members, Marguerite Kent and Patricia Damon. The club has participated in both postal and shoulder to shoulder matches. In the postal matches Rhode Island has "covered the country" shooting with teams from the University of Maine to the University of California. In March, the team travelled to Philadelphia to shoot with the strong Drexel Club. Making the trip were Captain Marguerite Kent, Louise Platt, Patricia Damon, Myra Palmer, Jeanne Smith, and Ruth Goeckel.

The Rhode Island team scheduled three games for the 1940 season. The first game was played with Hofstra, a strong New York team—the Rhode Island outfit lost this match 4-1. St. Joseph's, Rhode Island, and Connecticut participated in a round robin at Storrs, Connecticut. In this match the Rhode Island team came in second with 5 points. A third match was cancelled because of inclement weather.

This year tennis again made another step forward. A trip to New York has been planned and as the GRIST goes to press several colleges are trying to schedule tennis matches with Rhode Island.

The Women's Athletic Association voted to award a sweater to Betty Richmond, the star tennis player for three years. Betty is the first and only tennis player to whom such a presentation has been made.

The following girls are on the varsity tennis team: Margaret Brown, Rosalie Burt, Martha Corrigan, Anna Denico, Alice Jewell, Jane Sanborn, and Betty Richmond.

SINCE its formation in 1911 the Polygon, which is the interfraternity governing board, has done a great deal to establish and retain a spirit of cooperative effort between the numerous fraternities on campus. The most important function of the organization is to oversee the rushing campaigns; rules are formulated and enforced by this body in relation to rushing. Besides determining and regulating rushing rules the Polygon settles disputes between the fraternities and acts as an intermediary between the college and the fraternities.

The membership of the Polygon consists of two representatives from each fraternity and three faculty advisers. In order that the organization remain impartial, officers are elected by a rotation system and an entirely new set presides each year.

The Polygon also takes charge of interfraternity events such as the annual interfraternity sing which is held each spring and supervises the intra-mural sports programs.

On October 15, 1908 Rho Iota Kappa, the first fraternity on campus was organized. Its first home was at the Peckham Homestead, the present N. Y. A. Headquarters. From here P. I. K. moved to quarters in East Hall. The next home was the Boardman House. The present chapter house was opened in 1927 and the social-room enlarged in 1937.

During the World War, P. I. K. contributed some sixty men, seven of whom failed to return. A plaque at the house is dedicated to their memory.

Among the more prominent Rho Iota Kappas are: Dean Emeritus George E. Adams, former Dean Paul F. Burgess, Colonel Thomas W. Freeman, William Whelan, Lucius Whipple, President of R. I. C. E., Leslie Kegan, William Clarke and Harold Q. Moore.

Founded with the underlying principles of good fellowship and brotherhood, P. I. K. has continually grown stronger.

The fraternity has seen one generation pass and is now looking forward to the second.

Theta Chi, first known as Sigma Delta was the second local fraternity on this campus. Knowledge of the society's existence first became known to the campus on December 22, 1909 when a formal "coming out" party was held in Lippitt Hall.

Sigma Delta's petition for a charter was granted by Theta Chi fraternity on March 18, 1911. It is interesting to note that Eta chapter was the first national on this campus. Theta Chi has maintained several places of residence. At first the meetings were held in the attic of "Star Gables," a house on North Road; then at Tavern Hall; in the fall of 1910, the Church House; and in 1921 moved to its present location. Eta chapter of Theta Chi the first fraternity house to maintain a boarding department and also the first to have a house mother. In 1936, the fraternity celebrated its 25th anniversary of national affiliation with the publication of a book that reviewed its history. Theta Chi was destroyed by fire in 1937 but by 1938 the Theta Chi's once again took possession of one of the finest buildings associated with the college.

In 1910, Beta Phi was organized as the third fraternity at Rhode Island State College with the Watson House as its first home. From the beginning, Professor John Barlow has been associated with the fraternity and much can be credited to his interest and efforts.

Beta Phi built its second home in 1913, and burned the mortgage in 1926. This building was the first to be built as a fraternity house at Rhode Island State.

In 1931, this house being too small, plans were made and by 1932 the present house was finished and occupied. The effort, work, and sacrifices of the brothers who made possible this expansion is exemplified in the spirit that is characteristic of the fraternity; the ideals of unity and progress upon which the fraternity was founded can be traced not only in the history of the fraternity, but can be seen in the contributions made to the college.

Local fraternity founded 1911
 Total Chapter Membership—450

Delta Alpha Psi, the fourth oldest fraternity at Rhode Island State College, was organized on December 10, 1910, by a group of five men living at East Hall. Charter members were C. R. Gilchrist, B. R. Robinson, W. C. Matthews, C. B. Edmonds, and P. E. Freeman.

In 1913 the fraternity was large enough so that a residence could be rented. By 1917 the ground was being broken for a new home. Finished in 1918, it was occupied as an officers' headquarters during the First World War. In 1935 the chapter was completely rebuilt and a large wing was added to it.

Delta Alpha Psi has always had a large number of men out for athletics, and as for scholastic honors she holds her own with other fraternities.

Among her outstanding members are Professor Marshall Tyler, William Beck, Samuel McKee, Professor George Parks, R. A. DuBucci, and Irving "Shorty" Folswartshny.

Total Chapter Membership—297

There are 108 undergraduate chapters of Lambda Chi Alpha. The original Chapter was formed at Boston University on November 2, 1909. Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity now embraces a representation of undergraduate chapters all over the United States and in Canada; and alumni representation in all parts of the globe. There are over 108 alumni associations and the total membership is nearly 30,000 men, 1,600 of which are undergraduates.

In the fall of 1914, on October 9, Eta Zeta was installed at Rhode Island State College as a charter member of that growing young National fraternity, Lambda Chi Alpha. Since then it has been the pleasant task of the various historians to record a series of events marking a period of almost thirty years of uninterrupted progress for Eta. Likewise the life of the national organization to date has been marked by more than a decade of sound expansion and progress almost without parallel in the history of American College Fraternities. Rhode Island may be justly proud of Lambda Chi Alpha's achievements to date, both on Kingston Hill and throughout the nation.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon was established at Rhode Island in 1920 as the local fraternity Zeta Pi Alpha. In 1929, following due petition, Zeta Pi Alpha was incorporated into the national body of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, the chapter to be known as Rhode Island Alpha of Sigma Alpha Epsilon. During the period 1929 to 1934 the fraternity was domiciled in what is now known as the Phi Sigma House. In 1934, after the completion of a new home, the chapter was moved to its present location within the college gates. During its activity as Sigma Alpha Epsilon the fraternity has been prominent in the diverse fields of endeavor open to its members. Throughout its entire career Sigma Alpha Epsilon has shaped its policies with the view of utmost compatibility with the standards and goals of both the college and the student body.

In the fall of 1920, a group of non-fraternity men living in East Hall banded together and organized the Rhode Island Campus Club. Needing larger quarters the Club bought the Boardman House. The name Rhode Island Campus Club was changed in 1929 and the name Phi Beta Chi was adopted, making it the seventh Greek letter fraternity on the campus.

Early in 1934 the present site was chosen. The new home was occupied immediately upon completion in November of the same year.

Since 1935 the fraternity had been seriously considering nationalization. Tau Kappa Epsilon was petitioned to this end. The inspection was passed with flying colors, and at a regular meeting of the fraternity on April 9, 1937 an unanimous vote of the members indicated their willingness to take immediate advantage of this grant.

We became Alpha Rho chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon on June 10, 1927.

The local fraternity Beta Nu Epsilon come into being in the spring of 1922 with a membership of ten men. The following year with increased membership the group secured quarters in the old Lambda Chi Alpha house. As the chapter prospered the prospect of nationalization became an important factor of policy. Offers from many nationals were considered and finally, in April, 1928 it was decided to affiliate with Alpha Epsilon Pi. At the time of the induction, Dr. Howard Edwards was initiated as an honorary brother, the first faculty member in the national fraternity. It was with his aid that the present site of the chapter house was secured and in 1930 the construction of the new building was completed.

The tenth anniversary of the founding of Rho chapter of Alpha Epsilon Pi was observed in 1938. The fraternity could look back at a decade of rapid growth and internal organization. In this period the men of A. E. Pi had developed a tradition of outstanding achievement in scholarship and participation in activities of the college.

Phi Sigma Fraternity was conceived by a group of students living off campus. They were drawn together by a desire to bind their friendship. Kenneth Whipple, the first president, held the first meeting in Tavern Hall in the spring of 1925. Phi Sigma Fraternity became "The Order of Phi Sigma" under incorporation by the Secretary of State in 1930. Phi Sigma has limited its membership by virtue of its constitution.

Phi Sigma's objective is to develop true friendship between brothers that will continue long after they have finished working for their common goal, a college education.

Alpha Tau Gamma was founded in the spring of 1929 and held its first meetings in what is now Washburn Hall. The nucleus of the organization consisted of 23 charter members and Professor Ince as Faculty adviser. After living for three years in the old Fortin house, the boys moved into the building they now occupy. The present membership totals 132 alumni and 30 active members. In addition to Professor Ince, Dr. Odland with Professor McCauley and Colonel Greer serve as faculty advisers. The alumni and brothers have been aware of the fact that the present structure can no longer adequately serve the increasing requirements of the members. Consequently, plans are now well under way to remodel and add to the present building. The fraternity is proud of its past record and is confident of making an even better one in the future.

Beta Psi Alpha fraternity was founded in the year 1932. In nine short years the organization has grown to such an extent that today its total membership is well over a hundred. This year, however, due to the spirited and efficient efforts of its active alumni association the brotherhood realized one of its greatest ambitions by recently moving into its beautiful new fraternity house. The house emphasizes Georgian architecture. The building is eighty feet long and the outside is finished with brick trimmed in white. The inside has all the modern conveniences desired and there is ample room to accommodate forty-two students comfortably. Foresight has been used to such an extent that any expansion or improvement than may be necessary in the future can easily be accomplished.

PAN-HELLENIC ASSOCIATION is made up of all active sorority girls. From each of the four sororities, two members are chosen to serve on the governing Council. Members are selected at the end of their sophomore year by their respective sororities and serve on the Council during their Junior and Senior years.

Officers are active for one year and are chosen in rotation from the sororities in the order of their establishment on campus. The first problem confronting Pan-Hellenic each year is the explanation of rushing rules to the freshman girls, which is followed up by the preparation of freshman date-books, the governing of rushing itself, and finally the presentation of bids.

The meetings are held every other week, during which time inter-sorority relations are discussed and Greek letter problems attacked. Pan-Hellenic holds its annual ball in March. For the past few years it has been in Roosevelt Hall. The money taken in each year is used for scholarships in the fall. A scholarship is presented to the girl in each class attaining the highest scholastic record for the previous year, and the Pan-Hellenic shield is awarded to the sophomore girl who made the highest record during the first semester of her freshman year. In 1940 this was awarded to Lura Mae Odland. The three scholarships went to Barbara Webster, Elinor Whelan, and Lura Mae Odland.

The first movement for sorority action was begun in 1931 after the entrance of seven young Jewish women to Rhode Island State College. With the addition of new members every year, the organization began and continued its unofficial existence as the Campus Club until 1935. In that year, the united efforts of these women resulted in having the Campus Club finally recognized as an official organization of the college. The charter granted by the college was signed by President Raymond G. Bressler and the name changed to the Greek Letter form, Nu Alpha.

This year Nu Alpha with 20 members, has the largest group in its history.

Vital Statistics

Founded at Rhode Island—1930

Total Membership—291

The East Hall Association is made up of all persons living in East Hall and was founded in 1933. Since that time the Association has won the Rowell-Schattle Memorial cup for scholarship standing five times.

During its short time in existence, the association has numbered among its members, one Mayor of Kingston, three class officers, two members of the Beacon executive board, and two presidents of the Engineering Council. At the present time, it has many actively connected with the college Radio Network.

Socially, the Association started slowly, but has made great strides forward in the last two or three years; an annual off-campus banquet and two major dances are now annual events.

It might be said in closing that the Association is looked upon more favorably than non-fraternity organizations on most other campuses.

Opened September 1937

Dedicated October 4, 1938

Eleanor Roosevelt Hall is the large girls' dormitory situated on the lower college road. It was first opened in September 1937, and until the following year it was known as the Brick Dormitory.

On October 4, 1938, the building was formally dedicated to Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt. The dedication was a memorable event with Mrs. Roosevelt present as well as Senator Theodore Francis Green, and Governor Robert E. Quinn.

The dormitory is one of the most beautiful buildings on the campus and the home of over a hundred girls. Each year the Panhellenic Ball is held in Eleanor Roosevelt Hall, and Women's Student Government Association has a room in the dormitory.

The Eleanor Roosevelt Hall Association is made up of the girls residing in the dormitory, and the membership is not restricted. In the fall of 1938, the association entered the scholarship competition with the sororities and Phaeacians.

The Sachems is an honorary organization made up of fifteen seniors who are tapped in May of their Junior year by the outgoing senior members. The eleven men and four women students are chosen on the basis of their participation in campus activities and creditable scholarship.

The name Sachem is the Indian name for "chief", and although not a campus governing body, the Sachems are regarded as leaders and are respected for their sincere interest in student affairs. During the past year, they have engaged in a busy program and have shown their efficiency by enforcing Freshman rules, under the supervision of the Vigilantes, by conducting class elections, and running the Mayoralty campaign.

From the Sachem group, committees have been appointed to work out solutions for various college problems. Progress has been made on the establishment of a student government association. The members have discussed campus problems and have tried to act as a connecting link between students and faculty members. The members of the Sachems are distinguished by blue jackets, with Indian Head emblem on the pocket.

WOMEN'S STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION

Women's Student Government Association is one of the most important, active, and respected organizations at Rhode Island State College. All the women students in college are members of the W. S. G. A.; student council is composed of officers, and representatives of the various classes, elected by the women students. This organization is concerned with seeing that the prescribed rules of co-ed conduct are enforced and regulated; at regularly held bi-monthly meetings violators of the rules are brought before the council for trial and punishment. W. S. G. A. sponsors and supervises the annual May Day activities.

Judging from the effectiveness with which the organization functions, it is evident that W. S. G. A. is an excellent example of how students can cooperate and govern themselves with a minimum of control from the faculty.

It may be said that Grist Staff is telling you its purpose as you read from page to page in this 1941 issue of the GRIST. The members of the staff are all seniors who have shown an interest in their respective positions and who have, to the best of their ability, tried to portray the college in all its activities.

The GRIST holds a banquet each year together with the Beacon, at which time the publication is previewed and keys are awarded to the staff.

THE BEACON

Peckham, Belofsky, Kelman, Walther, Smith, Dickens, Callahan, Abrams

The Beacon is the college weekly paper, published by the students and for the students. It is issued each Thursday evening. This year has been an exceptional one for the paper, with numerous excellent editorials, good sport write-ups, biographies of faculty members, columns, and a complete report on all campus events. With The Beacon, the students receive the Collegiate Digest, every two weeks.

The Beacon board and staff is chosen in February and until the next February its members spend many late and hectic evenings in the office in Davis Hall, calling for assignments, rewriting, typing, counting space material, setting up, and just generally worrying.

Each class has a chance sometime during the year to put out a special edition of its own. The junior issue comes out just before Prom, the sophomore before the Hop, and the freshman before the Freshman Banquet. The staffs for these issues are especially selected by members of the regular Beacon. The last paper of the year is the Commencement issue which is dedicated to the Senior Class.

The paper is representative of student ideas, and will publish all letters, answers, and articles on college problems or individual ideas. Often the paper is instrumental in bringing about much-needed changes in college routine.

In the fall of 1929 the Rhode Island State College Chapter of the 4-H Club was founded. The club membership is made up of those college students who were 4-H Club members in previous years, and attempts to carry on and coordinate the work started by the members in their local organizations. Two of the aims of the club are educational and social which play an important role in all the affairs which the College 4-H Club conducts. Important among the clubs activities for this year were hot dog roasts, bowling parties, and the sponsoring of the meeting of the 4-H Club All Stars, at the college, in the spring. At this time a banquet and dance were given for the members and the All Stars.

THE FRESHMAN BIBLE

The Freshman Bible is the small, compact handbook which freshmen students purchase along with freshman caps and green ribbons. By the time they are seniors, they wish they still had it around.

The Bible is a small encyclopedia of the college; it contains its history, description of campus organizations, songs, cheers, thumb-nail sketches of the Professors, and is a general reference book for students to use during the year of orientation, and during the remainder of their four years in Kingston.

The staff is chosen each spring from the Junior class. Members of the staff are usually people who have shown journalistic interests by writing for the Beacon.

RHODE ISLAND REVIEW

The Rhode Island Review is a campus publication still in embryonic form. The first issue appeared in May, 1940, and through the efforts of Miss Reilly, Dr. Knickerbocker, and a few members of the old staff, the idea of a campus magazine was kept alive. The Review attempts to stimulate and encourage creative writing as a challenge to our student body who find little enough chance for self expression. The magazine is a forum and restricts neither contributor nor type of subject of contribution. The Review looks forward to the day when it will be a quarterly publication. ## THE SCROLL

The Scroll, the campus literary society, was founded in the spring of 1938 by a handful of students under the guidance of Virginia Hornby and Leonard E. Smith. Since then it has become recognized as a campus society of worthwhile purposes, and its membership has increased to approximately thirty members.

Dr. Kenneth L. Knickerbocker and Miss Mary A. Reilly are faculty advisers. Meetings are held weekly in a classroom in Quinn Hall, at which time speakers are presented to the club. During the past years, talks were given on poetry, old literature, drama, purposes of the Scroll, and various programs were planned by the students themselves.

In March, Scroll presented Mr. John Gainfort, a dramatist and critic from Broadway, who spoke on the current theatre. Many members of the Scroll have writing ability, and individual creative work has been encouraged. Scroll members often enter the writing contest sponsored by the English department each spring.

PHI DELTA

Secretary..... VIRGINIA M. WALSH

Organized twenty years ago this spring, Phi Delta, the only dramatic organization on the campus at the present time, is a student-run, student-financed, and student-supported organization. Through membership and participation in Phi Delta students are given an opportunity to develop initiative and ability. In addition to the regular acting there is open to members activity in several other lines. These include make-up, decorations, music, designing sets and costumes, dancing, properties, and all other activities that take place behind the scenes.

Phi Delta membership this year has reached the total of fifty-eight, thirty-one of whom are members of the Sophomore Class. Annually Phi Delta produces a series of one-act freshman plays and one or more full-length plays. This year the Rhody Revue is again being presented after an absence of one year. Membership in Phi Delta is acquired only through participation in the freshman plays or work "behind the scenes."

This year's full-length production, "She Stoops to Conquer" by Oliver Goldsmith, is a gay 18th century comedy. Dr. Lee C. Wilson of the English Department directed the play which ran two nights. Make-up was under the management of Paul Dunham who trained a special group to work under him.

The outstanding feature of the club's activities is the eagerly anticipated Rhody Revue. As the GRIST goes to press, this year's Revue, which is in the form of a musical comedy, is in the stages of rehearsal. Costumes, dance-routines, make-up lighting, scenery, acting, singing, writing of the script, and music are all handled by students of Rhode Island State College under the capable direction of Phi Delta members.

Phi Kappa Phi is a national honorary society promoting good scholarship. It is the highest scholastic honor, and probably the most cherished honor at Rhode Island State College, that a student may obtain.

The membership is limited to ten per cent of the Senior Class, and students are required to have well over a two point average in order to be eligible. A few members are elected in the fall, the remaining in the spring.

Phi Kappa Phi sponsors an Honors Assembly program in the fall at which time individual prizes for scholarships are given, and the scholastic ratings of houses and dormitories are announced. The members also hold an evening program each year for freshmen whom they believe to be prospective Phi Kappa Phi members.

SCABBARD AND BLADE

Scabbard and Blade is a national military honor society with eighty-six local chapters, called companies, located at various leading colleges and universities which have departments of military or naval science and tactics. The organization was founded at the University of Wisconsin in 1904 with the idea that such a society would be vital in developing and fostering the ideals and practices of military education in the United States.

H Company, 6th Regiment of Scabbard and Blade was established on the Rhode Island State College Campus in 1927. Scabbard and Blade sponsors the annual Military Ball at which the Junior Cadet Officers are tapped for membership and the selection of the honorary Co-ed Colonel is announced.

This year His Excellency, Governor J. Howard McGrath, was tapped as an honorary member and Miss Ruth Oldrid was named Co-ed Colonel.

Phi Sigma is a national honorary biological society. The Alpha Xi chapter was established at Rhode Island State College in 1935.

Membership is based on honor standing in biology subjects during freshman and sophomore years, as well as good character, and a positive interest in the field of biology. The chapter here at Rhode Island State College has emphasized the value of individual research, and during the past year many of the members have been doing experimental research on botany, physiology, and marine zoology.

Professor DeWolf and Dr. Hunter, as advisors of the society, have shown a great deal of interest in its advancement. The Biologist is the national publication which is issued four times a year. Alpha Xi Chapter also has its own publication, The Cell, which appears at the annual banquet. This year's Cell was efficiently edited by Arthur Kelman and David M. Smith.

ALPHA ZETA

Alpha Zeta Fraternity is a national honorary agricultural fraternity. It is composed of agricultural students of high standing in "scholarship, character, and leadership" and represents a goal which all members of the agricultural curriculum do their utmost to attain. This fraternity was established at Ohio State University on November 4th, 1897, and on May 29th, 1936, a chapter was installed at Rhode Island State College. Since that time Alpha Zeta has been of very great importance in promoting interest, scholarship, and leadership among the students of agriculture on the Rhode Island State College campus.

Each year on Honors Day the Rhode Island Chapter of Alpha Zeta offers, in recognition of outstanding achievement, a silver cup to the student in the freshman class of the agricultural course who makes the highest average grades for the year. Last fall the award was made to Glenn Wood.

The Rhode Island Club is an athletic honorary society which includes all men who have earned a letter in any recognized sport of the college. The main purpose of the club is to promote friendship and good-will among the athletes in the interests of the college by demanding team work, clean play, and loyalty to the college. The society acts as a governing body over men's athletics and regulates the awarding of letters.

During the past year the club has increased its activities to a very great extent and has proved beyond a doubt that the organization is more than just an honorary society. The work of the group has been very much in evidence. By sponsoring Saturday night dances and by selling refreshments at all the college's athletic events the R. I. Club has come to be recognized as one of the more active associations at college. On the "Ram Special" to Madison Square Garden on January 29th the society had a whole dining car and served refreshments to those Rhode Island fans making the trip.

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The Women's Athletic Association is composed of all the women students in college. Executive power is vested in a council composed of sweater-wearers, and officers and representatives elected by all the women students from a group of women who have actively participated in varsity sports. Sweater-wearers receive their awards for two years on a varsity team, for one year on a varsity team and two on a squad; or for four years on a squad; sweaters are also awarded to varsity managers in their senior year.

W. A. A. is the governing body over women's athletics; this organization makes the rules in regard to the awarding of sweaters and awards an intra-mural trophy. Each spring the association holds a banquet at which awards are made for the year and captains and officers are announced for the following year.

This year the Women's Athletic Association includes eleven sweater-wearers from the senior class and six from the junior class; this is believed to be the largest number of co-ed letter-wearers that Rhode Island has even had at one time.

Tau Kappa Alpha is a national forensic society, existing in seventy-eight colleges. Its members are chosen from the outstanding debaters in the Portia Club and the Wranglers, usually Juniors or Seniors.

Tau Kappa Alpha established each year conducts intra mural debates which are held in the fraternity and sorority houses. The members do the organizing, timing, and judging of these debates. The winning house or group receives for one year the George E. Brooks Intramural Debate Trophy, which to date has been won by Chi Omega and Delta Zeta.

The members of Tau Kappa Alpha are active during the Model Congress Session, and the participants in the annual Cup Debate are usually Tau Kappa Alpha members. The national publication is The Speaker which is issued four times a year.

WRANGLERS

The Wranglers, men's debating society, is one of the most active groups on campus. Meetings are held weekly, at which time there are practice debates and discussions, and cases are reviewed.

Under the leadership of Nathan M. Shippee, winner of the 1940 Cup Debate, and advisorship of Prof. George E. Brooks, the society has had one of its most successful seasons. Trips were made to New York, Connecticut, Wesleyan, and nearby colleges, enabling all upperclassmen to participate in an off-campus debate.

The most interesting home debate was held with Harvard University. Radio debates were much in evidence, and the Model Congress kept the Wranglers busy for weeks. The season was brought to a close with the men's Cup Debate.

The Portia Club is the women's debating society on the campus. The debate schedule for 1940-41 has been one of the most active of recent years.

There were many home debates, and three long trips taken by the Senior members to New York, Philadelphia, and New Jersey. Shorter trips were taken to Rhode Island College of Education, Brown, and Boston. The co-ed Dartmouth symposium held in February was enthusiastically received.

The debaters in Portia worked hard on Model Congress and debate receptions. Special mention should be given to Florence Hornstein, Portia manager responsible for securing the excellent schedule for the year.

RHODE ISLAND STATE COLLEGE CONCERT CHOIR

The Rhode Island State College Concert-Choir one of the largest mixed organizations in the college, has a membership of about 100 men and women. The group studies and renders selections in the field of sacred and secular choral music.

This year the R. I. S. C. Concert Choir, besides taking part in local concerts at the college and in the state, participated at the New England Inter-collegiate Glee Club Festival which was held at the University of New Hampshire, April 18th and 19th. Here ten New England Colleges were represented, and programs were presented by the individual college choirs and by all the college groups acting as a unit. Plans for joint concerts with the University of Connecticut have also been made.

The Rhode Island State College Little Symphony Orchestra, which performs under the direction of Professor Lee C. McCauley, has this year been received with greater enthusiasm than ever by the student body. Although the orchestra does not receive as much publicity as do the other musical groups it is yet of equal importance in the musical picture at Rhode Island State College. The members of the orchestra meet regularly and work faithfully under the direction of Professor McCauley. The group studies and presents works of the classical, romantic, and modern composers. In addition to regular concerts which are presented by the group at the college, this year the idea of having joint concerts with the University of Connecticut brought greater activity to this organization.

R. I. S. C. BAND ASSOCIATION

The popularly known "Blue and White" Band completed one of its most active years since its beginning under an improved program of organization and performance. The Rhode Island Band became one of the active charter members of the newly-formed New England College Band Association, and participated in the first annual New England College Band Festival at Amherst, Massachusetts. In addition to playing during the football season, it widened its scope of activity by playing at many of the basketball games, both at home and away, and by being the first New England College Band to play in Madison Square Garden, New York. Several concerts were given by the Symphonic Band in the spring, the highlight of which was the annual assembly program.

Through the efforts of the students of the R. I. S. C., the Network became a reality in March, 1940. A charter member of the Intercollegiate Broadcasting System, the Rhode Island State College Network, after months of experimenting and actual operation, has become a most efficient college broadcasting system.

The control room and studios are located in Edward's Hall with transmission lines leading to all dormitories and houses. The studios were originally designed as music rooms and are therefore semi-soundproof. The present operating frequency is about 575 kc, but with the FCC changing the allotted broadcasting frequencies, a better frequency may be chosen.

Through its relationship with the parent organization, the IBS, the Network offers valuable training for those interested in all phases of the radio industry. Personnel cards of all members of the Network are placed on file in the New York offices of the IBS where they are easily accessible to CBS and other large networks.

RADIO CLUB

The Radio Club was organized several years ago in order to be of assistance to those members who wish to pass the government's tests for licenses; at the same time the Club could enable licensed members to continue their radio work. In 1938 the club's importance was realized when it handled radio traffic for South County during the great hurricane in the fall of that year.

Recently the club was very instrumental in organizing and starting on its way the present Radio Network. The club is also affiliated with Rho Epsilon, a national fraternity for amateur radio clubs in colleges and universities.

The Newman Club of Rhode Island State College is a part of the National Newman Club Federation whose aim is to foster Catholic thought and culture. An intensive program of discussion on religious and ethical topics is conducted as well as a varied social program.

The outstanding feature of the club's activities is the three-day Spiritual Retreat conducted annually. The attendance is excellent and the students appreciate the opportunity offered. A Communion Breakfast is held each year in the spring. This year Angelo Mantenuto, Betty Benheimer, Edward Maher, Barbara O'Neill and Margaret Gallogly attended a convention of the New England Confederation of Newman Clubs at the University of New Hampshire.

Outside lecturers are brought on campus for the open meetings of the club. Rev. Leo Rowlands, O.S.F. Cap., Chief McNulty, Rev. Delaney, Rev. McConnell, and Dr. John Turco have been guests of the club in the capacity of guest speakers. Rev. Paul Lloyd, as chaplain, has been the inspiration for continuous advancement, and Miss Mabel Dickson has been a friend of the Newman Club and a loyal supporter of its activities.

STUDENT FELLOWSHIP

The Student Fellowship, a young people's organization in connection with the village church, is open to all college students. Meetings are held each Sunday evening in the church house. The first meeting of the year is usually an informal party for the purpose of meeting the freshmen. This is followed by an outdoor meeting.

The weekly meetings are made interesting as well as educational by inviting outside speakers to talk to the students on social, moral, and general topics. The speakers are college professors, writers, and well known lecturers. Panel discussions have also proved most successful. Programs are arranged by a Cabinet made up of representatives from houses and dormitories.

The Student Fellowship, under the advisership of Reverend Harry S. McCready and President Walton H. Scott, Jr. has done much toward getting students together informally, and in fostering a friendly relationship between students who rarely have the opportunity to meet one another except at Student Fellowship gatherings.

In consequence of the steadily increasing interest and activity in aeronautics, The Aero Club was organized at Rhode Island State College in 1935 through the efforts of Dr. Alexander and Professor Sikorsky. Since that time the club has increased greatly in size and in importance. Although the first members of the Aero Club were practically all engineers, with the increasing interest in aeronautics, students from all curricula eventually came to join the society. In addition to to the instruction which the members of the club receive from Dr. Alexander, and the valuable information that may be obtained from Professor Sikorsky and other pioneers in the world of aviation, the air-minded students conduct frequent field trips and eventually become familiar with the rudiments of general aeronautical science.

THE FLYING RAMS

The "Flying Rams" is one of our most recently organized associations. It was founded in November, 1940, through the initiative of Dr. Nicholas Alexander. The purpose of the Club is to foster flying and to enable CAA pilots to continue flying after the completion of their course. This organization is unique in that it is probably the only one on campus that is a corporation having a state charter. The club owns a Taylorcraft, "The Flying Rams", which is kept at the State Airport in Hillsgrove. All members are allowed to use it. Two aims of the club are to have a suitable hangar and field built closer to the campus in the near future, and to increase its membership sufficiently so that it may join the National Aeronautic Association of Washington, D. C.

The Socius Club, which had its beginning as the Sociological Club in May, 1938, is an organization which has as its purpose the promotion of interest in the sociological studies by showing the importance of these studies in their application in the world today. Lectures given by professional people show how sociology is related to many different fields, and movies presented to the members of the club give to them some indication of what has been done and what remains to be done in social welfare work. The group takes occasional trips to prisons, institutions, and similar places, and here the members get first-hand information on the work in which they are interested.

AGGIE CLUB

In addition to being probably the oldest of the organizations on the campus, the Aggie Club also is one of those having the greatest number of members. The society is represented by all the students enrolled in the School of Agriculture. The chief function of the association is the promotion of professional interest on the campus in agriculture. At the regular monthly meetings discussions are conducted concerning recent happenings in the field of agriculture. The Aggie Club starts off the social year by one of the annual highlights, the colorful "Aggie Bawl." This is one of the best attended dances of the year.

The Camera Club is a relatively new organization on our campus. Ever since the time of its formation about two years ago, the Camera Club has gained steadily in both popularity and membership. This club offers to those students who are interested in photography a chance to get together so that they might discuss some of the problems which confront the beginners, and to those students who are more experienced in photography the opportunity of exchanging ideas more freely is given.

Besides the lectures which the club sponsors in order to keep its members abreast in the photographic world, the club holds an annual photographic contest.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

The Home Economics Club had its beginning in 1921 and since that time its membership and its activities have increased so that at the present time it is one of the largest groups on campus. Everyone taking the Home Economics course in the college is eligible for membership in the organization. The Club aims to bring to its members some features of domestic science which will add to their experience and information and in different ways prepare them for work after college. The organization meets twice a month at which times an outstanding speaker in some line of domestic science is presented. An interesting feature of the Home Economics Club is the Annual Food Bazaar; ordinarily this is presented around Christmas time but this year the members have changed this custom and are presenting the Bazaar on May Day. A fashion show which is presented in the spring is always of great interest. In it the students display the clothes they have made. The Home Economics Club is directly affiliated with the National Home Economics Association.

The Chemistry Society has as its main purpose an attempt to make the work of the student of greater interest to him and to bring to the chemistry student a realization of the many fields with which his major subject is definitely concerned. This society, an organization composed of students majoring in the field of chemistry, offers an extensive program to its members. Regular meetings, interesting lectures, moving pictures, and discussions all help to promote interest in chemical research and problems. It not only fosters greater cooperation between instructor and student but also aids the student in making a more definite decision as to his chosen field of specialization in the larger field of chemistry. The year's activities are concluded with a chemical exhibit displayed in conjunction with the annual Inter-scholastic Field Day in May.

ENGINEERING COUNCIL

The Engineering Council of Rhode Island State College was organized in 1938. This group is made up of two members from each of the four engineering societies. Its chief function is to create a closer relationship between the societies and thus to coordinate the affairs and activities of the four societies with the end in view of stimulating improvement of engineering as a whole.

The council sponsors a smoker and banquet each year where speakers are presented. Last year the council was instrumental in publishing the first engineering magazine at the college, The Integral.

The Engineering Council sponsors the Slide Rule Strut which was presented for the first time in 1939. This semi-formal dance uses technical surroundings and apparatus as a background and has been received with such enthusiasm by the student body that it has developed into a popular annual affair.

The Chemical Engineering Society is the youngest of the engineering groups on campus. It was founded in 1937. Not for long did it remain a local, for on December 15th, 1938, Dr. M. E. Molstead of Yale University, Secretary of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers, installed the Rhode Island chapter as a member of the national student organization. Rhode Island followed Yale, M. I. T., and Northeastern in its affiliation with the Institute. Although it is still fairly young, the Chemical Engineering Society has lost little time in stimulating professional interest among its members in the wide field of chemical engineering. This has been accomplished through periodic conferences and field trips to many industrial plants.

AMERICAN SOCIETY OF MECHANICAL ENGINEERS

The second oldest of the engineering societies at Rhode Island State College was founded in 1904 as the Mechanical Engineering Society. Since that time it has developed into the largest of the engineering societies. This group fosters interest in the broad field of mechanical engineering through the media of lectures by engineers, movies, and discussions on topics which are of importance to those students who wish to become future mechanical engineers. Through its affiliation with the American Society of Mechanical Engineers in 1923 the smaller group was given the opportunity to see and hear professional men in the field of mechanical engineering. Of very great importance to the members of the society are the Society's Employment Service and Engineering Council for Professional Betterment which will be sources of great benefit to the members after they have left college.

The Electrical Engineering Society, which was founded way back in 1898, has the distinction of being the oldest of all the Engineering Societies at Rhode Island State College. In 1923 the local society joined the national organization, the American Institute of Electrical Engineers. The main service performed by the society is the promotion of student interest by encouraging full participation at the regular meetings of the society, by arranging field trips that will be beneficial to the members, and by the entertainment of guest speakers, usually men who are experienced and prominent in the field of electrical engineering. The society has been instrumental in fostering friendship among the different students and classes in electrical engineering and has provided contacts with men in this field on the outside.

AMERICAN SOCIETY OF CIVIL ENGINEERS

In 1932 the Civil Engineering Society of Rhode Island State College became affiliated with the American Society of Civil Engineers. Since that time the local group has progressed rapidly in interest and activity. Through the excellent program afforded the society by means of its meetings, those students who have the desire to develop into the designers of bridges, parkways, buildings and dams of tomorrow, have the opportunity to become better acquainted with professional engineers, their work, and practices. Those who attend the periodic meetings of the society hear lectures by men with first-hand information in the field of engineering. Movies, discussions, conferences and field trips all do their part in helping the Civil Engineers at Rhode Island State College to increase their knowledge and experience in that field in which they are interested.

QUEEN OF THE AGGIE BALL

BARBARA WHALEY

Among the rustic boughs animated by the occasional moo of a calf and the cackle of a chicken, 275 couples viewed the 32nd Aggie Bawl. Through the efforts of Phil Monte, chairman of music, the Aggie Club was honored with the reappearance of the Fenton Brothers' sixteen piece orchestra. This musical organization again proved to be as popular with the 300 couples in attendance as it had been at the Aggie Bawl of 1939. The dance, already well known for its extensive and pertinent decoration, was accentuated by a specially erected booth for the patrons. This construction was outlined with horse collars and other pieces of harness, plus various implements such as plows, planters, and cultivators, which were all secured from nearby farms. One portion of the booth was set aside to house the first four-wheeled gig which the interior of Lippitt Hall has ever seen, and probably ever will see. During the "dance set" that preceded intermission, this gig, powered by four powerful football men, carried the Queen and her attendants in a review which ended before a throne. The throne, composed of two wagon wheels as sides and covered by a thatched roof, was the scene of further festivity. With the crowd attentively watching, Miss Barbara Whaley was crowned by Howard Bardsley, energetic president of the Aggie Club, with a wreath of flowers, and presented with a cup symbolic of her honor. Miss Whaley comes from nearby Wakefield and succeeds Miss Muriel Dickinson last year's lovely Harvest Queen.

The general setting was of an agricultural nature. As you entered the hall, there was overhead a solid mass of boughs which, played on by several colored spotlights, gave the autumn colors that harmonized with the thoughts of harvest time. These boughs were cut and transported from nearby stands of wood by the hard labor of the committee. Surrounding the bandstand were pine boughs interwoven with squash, pumpkins, apples and other harvest products which gave the necessary autumn coloring. At the eastern end of the hall, stables were built to house several favored goats and calves. From these enclosures came the occasional moo of the calf of which we have spoken. Flanking these were several pens of R. I. Red chickens which gave way to eight eggs during the evening despite the unusual excitement for them. From a nearby South County farm, the Aggie Club was able to acquire a large, snarling raccoon. This raccoon was kept in the hall during the entire dance and remained in good humor, also, not breaking the chains which kept him in good custody. These animals were all made available through the courtesy of those who have, for several years, shown a genuine interest in the welfare of the Aggie Club here at Rhode Island.

To these people, and the forty-two agricultural students who wholeheartedly combined their efforts under the general chairmanship of Norman Chase, goes the credit of staging a most successful dance—the first major dance of 1940, the Aggie Bawl.

SOPH HOP

JEAN YARE

The Soph Hop, traditional formal dance of the class of 1943, entered the scene of campus socials in a gala manner on December 12, 1940. Rodman Hall, transformed by colorful spotlights playing on an unusual winter scene, was occupied by some one hundred and ninety couples.

All those who attended were very much pleased with the selection of the band. Claude Thornhill, who previously had played at the Roseland Ballroom in Boston and entertained at the Boston University Military Ball, was the man who led his fifteen piece orchestra in the pleasing chords of music. The features of the evening's music were Claude Thornhill at the piano and xylophone, and his charming singer, Jane Essex, plus the unforgettable Boy Jenney, the bad humor man.

Upon a throne resembling a snow chair and with spotlights focused, Miss Jean Yare representative of Delta Zeta, was officially crowned by Claude Thornhill as the Sweetheart of '42.

SLIDE RULE STRUT

The most successful Slide Rule Strut ever to be held was presented by the engineers on March 27, 1941 at the Lippitt Gym.

Amidst the surroundings of working models of engineering accomplishments, a gay crowd enjoyed the pleasing rhythms of Eddie Quinton's orchestra. The feature of this year's Strut was the selection of a Queen Engineerette. To Miss Peggy Armbrust went the honor of being chosen the first Queen. In addition to her regal crown the new queen received a key to Bliss Hall, the home of the engineers.

MILITARY BALL

Always a colorful and highly appealing dance because of the ceremonies and the atmosphere, which are an integral part of the Military Ball, the event this year far surpassed those of former years. Scabbard and Blade, National Honorary Military Society on the campus, conducted this successful dance in Rodman Hall on its traditional date, the eve of Washington's Birthday, February 21, with probably more appropriate surroundings and sentiment than any formal has ever had on this campus.

The interior was skillfully arranged and completely transformed as if by a magic wand. Divisional and regimental insignia, standards and color predominated. These, coupled with the numerous uniforms of the cadet officers and students, the colorful dress uniforms of the guests and the returning alumni, who are once again in the Nation's service, lending a most distinctive military tinge.

The program opened with a Grand March led by his Excellency J. Howard McGrath and the retiring honorary Co-ed Colonel, lovely Blanche Richards. Many couples joined in this march necessitating strategic maneuvers by the Governor to keep it from entangling. This he managed so skillfully and ably that it is still the subject of discussion here and away from Kingston.

Following a period of general dancing to the sweet strains of Red Norvo's Orchestra, the evening's most awaited moment came. The impressive ceremony of the Senior Cadet Officers, the sabre arch by the Juniors served as a prelude to the unveiling of a new honorary Co-ed Colonel. Singled out of the darkness by a sole spotlight as she stepped forth from behind closed curtains, pretty Ruth Oldrid was acclaimed with much awe and joy by all present. Our new Colonel was chosen by all students enrolled in the military course by ballot during the week preceding. The utmost secrecy always surrounds this vote. She was chosen from a field of five worthy candidates all of whom were nominated by Scabbard and Blade members. The new Co-ed Colonel was presented to the public by her predecessor and her title bestowed upon her by Governor McGrath.

Junior Cadet Officers were then tapped and presented for membership in the Honorary Military Society. Governor McGrath was presented with a service bar and inducted as an honorary member of Scabbard and Blade by Cadet Captain Sherman Bailey.

The most climatic and thrilling moment of the evening came with the dimming of lights, the flick of sabres, the unfurling of the flag, and the playing of the Star Spangled Banner. No event or situation could convey in so short a time all the feeling and meaning that this moment held for the cadet officers and the general gathering.

Many couples passed through the long receiving line of Military, State and College dignitaries. Governor and Mrs. J. Howard McGrath headed this group among whom were Congressman Aime J. Forand, Brigadier General and Mrs. Herbert R. Dean, Brigadier General and Mrs. Earl Webster, Colonel and Mrs. Frank U. Greer, members of the Board of Trustees and other college representatives.

All in all the Scabbard and Blade presented a fine dance and one which will leave an important imprint in the tradition of Rhode Island State College. Chairman Jack Hyland and his committee are indeed deserving of every praise given them.

JUNIOR PROM

"The Prom's the thing," Truer words have never been spoken as far as this annual dance is concerned. For days and weeks and months, the student body, and we understand the faculty too, of Rhode Island State College look forward with joy to this gala event. For many years now our Junior Prom has been on a par with the quality of any similar dance of any New England College. In the past years, Ozzie Nelson, Ray Noble, Tommy and Jimmy Dorsey have all performed. Last year, Chairman Herbert Woodbury, through his extended efforts brought Larry Clinton, Ford Leary, and the ever popular Bea Wain to the Biltmore Ballroom. This dance, best remembered by recent classes, proved to be very popular as many current remarks will guarantee.

We believe that we too, the class of 1941, have staged a Prom that will not only be one well remembered, but one set as a goal for following classes to shoot at. In fact, we might say that this year's dance was the unusual or unique in more than one way. It all goes back to the days when the chairman was worrying about a satisfactory date that would be suitable to all. After much debate, one date was picked, but the ballroom was not available. Then came a huddle with the Class Advisor Doc Pease and the committee. From this meeting came the decision to ask the Administrative Council to cancel classes on May first, which they did. Thus, the Junior class was able to have this favored dance on April 30, 1940 at the Biltmore Ballroom.

Finally, on the evening of April 30, the elite of the campus met in formal attire in the atmosphere of beauty and dignity that only the Junior Prom affords. The class was not to be outdone by previous years in the matter of bands, for they secured Glen Gray and his famous Casa Loma Orchestra. Thus, with his famous theme song, "Smoke Rings", Gray, co-featured with Kenney Sargent and Pee Wee Hunt, took over the bandstand to open the evening's pleasure. Before the evening was over everyone was speaking of our handsome six foot, four inch maestro, Glen Gray.

GLEN GRAY AND QUEEN

VIRGINIA GILMAN

We have said the Prom was unusual. Here it is again, for a 30-minute coast-to-coast hookup broadcast over the Columbia Networks brought the Prom and its sweet music to the parents and friends of those present. Previous to the broadcast, the official receiving line of patrons which included Governor and Mrs. Vanderbilt, Dr. and Mrs. Raymond G. Bressler, Dr. and Mrs. John Barlow, Colonel and Mrs. Frank Greer, and Colonel and Mrs. Skinner, met the many guests. To usher the couples through the reception line were Walt Lysak, Elmer Ladouceur, and Eugene Greene.

In a deserving ceremony, the candidates for Prom Queen were escorted to the bandstand and with the assistance of Glen Gray, Pee Wee Hunt, and Kenney Sargent, Miss Virginia Gilman was selected for the honor, and duly named the Queen of the 1940 Junior Prom.

CLASS VOTE

The class vote was not complete but we believe that there was enough of a majority of voters to give a fair idea of the trend. In the vote for the most beautiful, Blanche Richard was the winner, with Peggy Ambrust a close second. Blanche and Peggy were on every ballot with the votes very close. Peggy was voted the Best Dressed and Biggest Society Lady. Anna Moskalyk had little competition in the final count for the Best Natured and Most Collegiate Co-ed. Walton Scott and Bud Conley were in a close vote for Most Handsome Ed with Bud the winner. Warner Keaney was unanimous choice for Best All Around Athlete and Best Natured. There was a very close vote between Maurice Belisle and Bud Conley over the title of Best All Around Ed with Bud the winner. Maurice received a majority over Elmer Ladouceur in the vote for the title of Most Thorough Gentleman. The wittiest Seniors of the year had no trouble being identified for the votes were unanimously in favor of Anna Moskalyk and Roland Gagnon. Jane Sanborn was voted the Best All Around Women Athlete and Margaret Thackeray the Best All Around Co-ed.

Basketball was the favorite sport of the class with a great deal of interest in football as brought out by the voting. There was a tie vote on prospects for a job which is a good sign, as in former years the answer has been "No". The graduation age varied from 20 to 29 with 22 the average age upon graduation. We have one in the books for Ripley for there are some here that say the average cost of a date is 10c while others spend $5.00. The average for the class, however, is $2.00. The New York trip was apparently a great success for the Seniors proved in the vote that the trip should be a yearly one. Gone With the Wind was our best movie with Philadelphia Story the next choice. In the magazine questionnaire we found that the most read was Life, followed by Readers Digest and Esquire. What happened to Vogue?

CLASS PROPHECY

The marvels of this age! I never realized so many people could be assembled in one place. Noise! the drone of a formation of army bombers would sound like the hum of humble bees compared to this din. I'm literally being pushed and jostled about by the terrific onslaught of spectators who have mobbed Madison Square Garden tonight. Each seems intent on procuring the few available seats remaining. You can hardly blame them. The outstanding athletic event of the year has materialized. Times Square News Tower has been screeching these headlines for the past few weeks: "Tickets now on sale for Indiana-Rhode Island State Basketball Game—Madison Square Garden—Saturday, March 22, 1961."

More significant than any of the last year's national tournament games, this fracas promises a thrill for every action packed minute of the fray. Coach Warner Keaney, following much the same style his illustrious father made famous in '41, is confident that the Rams will take Indiana by a good margin. Bud Conley's son, Fred Jr., is R. I. star forward and the mainstay of the quintet this year.

There seems to be some excitement at the northeast entrance of the Garden. The Governor of Rhode Island, His Excellency James Butler and his staff are arriving. Some of them seem familiar—there's Ralph Millspaugh, Rene Duranleau, and the new Secretary of State, Elmer Ladouceur. New York's Commissioner of Roads, Herb Wisbey is on hand to welcome the delegation and present the keys of the city to Rhode Island's third woman mayor, little Patsy Murphy, whose father, one time Mayor of Kingston, now owns and operates "Murphy's Mysoginist Mansion", a better class boarding house for bachelors. It would seem that the '41 alumni are well represented.

Upstairs in the press box, I found Dave Smith, Art Kelman, and Al Peckham, ace reporters of Callahan's News Syndicate busily engaged making last minute preparations to wire their stories in. Columbia's ace sports commentators Vin Morristette and John Stasukevich were testing microphones and Nick Orlando, manager of the Garden, was doing some heavy speculating with his assistant manager Larry Gates.

New York has really been Rhody conscious these last few years. With an annual schedule that now includes Seton Hall, Long Island University, City College of New York, Westminster, and last year Wisconsin, the Rams have steadily risen in popularity and favor with the fans. The President of the College, Nathan Shippee, and Dean of Women, Helen Leon, agreed to suspend classes for a week if the team manages to overcome Indiana in this final tournament game. Everyone of the 18,000 Garden seats has been sold out in advance.

In the reserved section, I find several members of the Puerto Rican Board of Education—Helen Beaven, Leon Goff, Burton Froberg, and Florence Skoog—who had been flown over from the island by that famous team of TVA Transport Pilots, Anna Moskalyk and Bob Irons. I was pleased to learn that Alice Jewell and Elaine Walcott were stewardesses on the same plane.

I stopped long enough at the lunch counter to hear that the new drink "Pansar-Cola" discovered by Al Pansar is gradually outselling all other popular brands. As a matter of fact, the new elite restaurant of Fifth Ave. operated by the Misses Bailey and Briggs has been urging customers to sample this new taste thrill. In the lobby, John Creech, prosperous from his discovery of oil on Block Island, was speaking most enthusiastically of the newly constructed series of bridges joining the islands of Narragansett Bay—the masterpiece of engineer Milt Walcher. However, Milt modestly admits that he couldn't have done it without the assistance of Walt Novack, Anthony Caputi, and Bob Afflick.

Third assistant Garden Manager, John Gillespie, told me earlier this evening that a special delegation of Rhode Island Girl Scouts were to be guests of the New York Athletic Association of which Elmer Cornell is acting President. Scout Master Margaret Thackeray and her counsellors, Betty Williams, Barbara Webster and Peggy Kent accompanied the group.

According to Walt Scott, publicity director at the college, the co-editors of "Live" Magazine, Sherman Bailey and Gordon Pennoyer, have planned an extensive publicity campaign for the famous Ram team. So dynamic has Rhody's rise to fame that it is rumored on good authority that Herb Repass, who has done well for himself in Hollywood, is attempting to persuade head of MGM, Harold Werner to make a series of Ram shorts for National Athletic Week.

Several prominent alumni are to be featured in this National Athletic Week program. Louis "Duke" Abbruzzi, one time star quarter back of the State team, will lecture to undergraduates of Rockwell Prep School on the "aesthetic value of athletics". In the tennis world the indomitable Wimbledon cup team of a few years ago, Windy Hey and Bob Larrabee are planning several demonstration matches in the Garden. The winners of the National Open Golf Tournament of 1945, Larry Harrigan and Bob Conrad, will demonstrate the new club grip responsible for their phenomenal success. Rumor has it that with proper financial stipulations arrangements may be completed to present the popular roller skate dancing team Hazel Joyce and Herb Gosling. The team created quite a sensation last year in their invitation performance before the "Crown Head of Europe".

Currently co-featured with the masculine part of the N.A.W. Program, Woman's Athletic Club Director Nancy Williams promises events of outstanding interest to the feminine world. Innovations in the women's field of athletics were startlingly heralded in 1946 with Ruth Thornton's breathtaking 100 foot swan dive and Muriel Selby and Barbara McBride's pine ski jumps. Jane Sanborn, All-American Sports Week Queen, will wear a gown made of a new secret plastic material, the discovery of chemist Pat Kayes, and designed by Peg Armbrust, of "La Maison de Charme" swank Park Avenue style salon.

Most of the sports fans at the game tonight have been speaking enthusiastically of the Photography exhibit which wealthy philanthropist Carroll Billmyer has been sponsoring this week. The winning portrait was an action shot of Metropolitan Opera Maestro Roland Gagnon expressing a very pronounced "Pianissimo" during an interlude of Monte's Fifth Symphony in 6 flats. The work of ace photographer George Buivid, this composition was decorated with a blue ribbon for excellence by judges Helen Abrams, Marcella Czubak, Stephen Zweir and Al Tavarozzi of the National Association of Retail Artists of America. Creating quite a sensation in the field of expressionistic art, the composition "Sea Gull Gathering Grapes" by Surrealist artist Frank Zammarchi initiated a new style in technique. The sculpture of Virginia Holley and Margaret Boyle was very enthusiastically received by art lovers everywhere.

Several prominent people in the field of arts and letters are in the Garden tonight. Norman Chace, Pulitzer Prize winner for his autobiography Wedded Bliss is conversing with Phyllis Arnold, famous for her weekly articles in Science Digest. Barbara Penney and Vince Ruggieri collaborators of the new text book on Nutrition and Vitamin Research are discussing lunch counter problems with Shel Salisbury owner and manager of the nationally famous line of Salisbury fountains.

The loud speaker in the Garden has just announced that Maurie Belisle is the winner of the Mantenuto Sweepstakes this year. Manty and his staff of able assistants, George August, Howard Bardsley, Lester Bills, and Henry Capotosto initiated a pool in 1941 which has increased to such proportions that its popularity and financial receipts now eclipse the Irish Sweepstakes.

There is much excitement in Kingston over the announcement that "Premiere Ballerina" Norma Joyce of the Russian Ballet has offered her extensive dancing experience to take charge of the chorus in the 1961 Rhody Revue. Head of BMI, Al Gadow promises that he will back the songs written by that inimitable song writing team the, Babbitt twins. Rated in collegiate circles as one of the outstanding musical comedies of the year, The Revue, financially backed this year by alumna Virginia Gilman, will be presented in Hyland's State Theatre in Kingston. Palumbo's Advertising Agency, with headquarters in Waltham, has been contracted to arrange for a nation-wide billboard publicity program.

While walking down Forty-Second Street this afternoon, I met and chatted with Theresa Ferrazzoli, the college nurse. She was very elated about the physical condition of the undergraduates at Rhody this year. It appears that the ruling of the State Health Commissioner, Eleanor Suitor, that one of Hobson's Health Capsules be consumed by each student per day has had fine results.

Just managed to say hello to three of Saks' superior buying staff, Lee Clarke, Ann Chaharyn, and Pat Damon. They are anticipating a busy spring as a result of the tremendous turn to Town and Country sport clothes as advertised in Petersen's "Gentlemen's Guide" this month. At least there seems to be ample money in circulation according to statistics in Machon's Stock Market Report issued yesterday.

Here comes the Rhody team now for a few minutes of practice shooting before the game. Coach Flip Keaney, Doc Heffernan, and trainer DeCesare have taken their positions on the bench and are nervously awaiting the whistle. Of course, I have no way of predicting who will finish with the top edge on the score but I might suggest that you read your Journal tomorrow—March 23, 1961.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The publication of the 1941 GRIST is not entirely the work of the Seniors. There are many who, each year, help the staff by suggestions, contributions, and cooperation. We are particularly thankful to the following:

Dr. Harold W. Browning for general advice.

Miss Magdalen Colston who cheerfully acted as secretary for the entire staff.

Mr. William Mokray whose athletic pictures are always a feature in the GRIST.

Mr. Bromage of the Providence Journal for his leniency in allowing us to use some of their pictures.

Frank Lanning of the Providence Journal for his very pleasing and worthy presentation of the drawing which appears on page 268.

Those interested students and faculty members who assisted the staff by contributions of pictures, material, and time.

A MARK OF QUALITY

Wherever New England men of good taste gather you'll find the Kennedy label in great evidence. For years this mark has been their guiding star in the selection of their clothing. It represents the accumulation of years of experience outfitting men and young men with the clothing they want at prices they want to pay. It's in the light of this experience that New England men, in ever increasing numbers, come to Kennedy's.
